TROUBLE AT ROTTERDAM.

OTHER TRADES JOIN THE MOVEMENT OF THE DOCK LABORERS.

The Strikers, Headed by Socialist Leaders, Parade the Streets—Count Bismarck's Dinner to Minister Phelps—Inventor Edison Decorated With the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor.

ROTTERDAM, September 27.—The strike which started among the dock laborers is spreading to other occupations. The employes of several cigar factories have joined the movement. The strikers, headed by Socialist leaders, paraded the streets this morning and afterward attempted to prevent the loading of the steamer Holland. The police intervened and the loading of the steamer proceeded. Several of the ship owners have resolved not to grant the increase of wages demanded by the strikers.

DISPERSED BY THE POLICE.

Bodies of the strikers gathered together this afternoon and became so menacing in their demonstrations that the police dispersed them with their sabers. The Communal Guard has been cited out to assist the police in preserving order.

ENGLISH AID FOR THE STRIKERS.

LONDON, September 27.—Mr. Tillett, one of the leaders of the recent strike in London, will probably go to Rotterdam to-morrow to exercise his influence in behalf of the strikers. He has sent pickets to Harwich, the principal point of departure of steamers for Rotterdam, and they have already stopped many "blacklegs" who were on the way to Rotterdam to take the places of the strikers. A committee of the Dock Laborers' Union will hold a meeting at the Wade Arms Public House to-night to discuss the subject of sending money to aid the strikers.

ARRESTED FOR INTIMIDATION.

John Williams, a Socialist, has been arrested in this city on a charge of intimidating men who were going to Rotterdam to take the places of strikers.

England.

LONDON, September 27.—The election to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons for Sleaford Division of Lincolnshire, caused by the acceptance of the Rt. Hon. Henry Chaplain of the office of Minister of Agriculture, took place yesterday and resulted in the return of Mr. Chaplain, who received 4,386 votes. Mr. Francis Otter (Gladstonian), his opponent, received 3,078 votes. In the last election Mr. Chaplain was returned without opposition.

France.

PARIS, September 27.—The Grand Cross of a Commander of the Legion of Honor has been bestowed upon Mr. Thomas A. Edison. M. Spuller, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in conferring the decoration upon Mr. Edison, said it was given in honor of the services rendered by him to science and for the part taken by him in the Paris Exposition. M. Spuller also said that America was splendidly represented at the exposition, and that the presence of her exhibits testified to the indissoluble bonds which bind France and America together.

Germany.

BERLIN, September 27.—Among the guests present at the dinner given last night by Count Herbert Bismarck to Mr. Wm. Walter Phelps, the American Minister, were Marquis Beciaria, Italian Charge d'Affaires; Mr. Beauclerk, British Charge d'Affaires; Baron Von Der Goltz, Chief of the Admiralty; Herr Von Wedell-Piersdorf, President of the Reichstag; Herr Von Alvensleben, recently German Minister to the United States, and Gen. Von Hahnke.

Servia.

BELGRADE, September 27.—The returns thus far received of the elections for members of the Skuptschina show that twenty Radicals and eleven Liberals have been elected.

The Dominion.

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, September 27.—The American schooner-yacht Speeranza, from Toledo for Boston, arrived here yesterday.

DANGER OF ANOTHER LANDSLIDE.

QUEBEC, September 27.—Another fissure is visible in the open hanging rocks and the cliff is somewhat bulged out. The end of Dufferin Terrace is inclining over gradually. It is the opinion that a couple of days more of rain or a night's frost will result in another landslide. Notwithstanding this, the city authorities are having a roadway built over the fallen rocks, just as if there wasn't the least danger.

UNITED STATES COURTS.

An Important Trade Mark Decision—The "Bromidia" Case Knocked Out.

An important decision was rendered by Judge Brewer in United States Circuit Court this morning in the case of the United States vs. Gustave Koch, which had been appealed from the District Court. Koch is one of the twenty or more drug-store keepers who were arrested on a charge of infringing on the trade mark word "Bromidia" which Battle & Co., the chemists, claim the sole right to. Judge Brewer said the law of 1876, under which the prosecution was made, was based on the law of 1870 and that law was declared unconstitutional, hence any law based on it could not be held constitutional. The demurrer to the indictment was overruled and quashed and Koch was discharged. There are about twenty more cases of the same kind which will be affected by this ruling. Several druggists entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine some months ago.

Overruled a Demurrer.

Judge Thayer rendered a decision while on the United States Circuit Court bench this morning overruling a demurrer in the $820,000 damage suit of John Pike, a watchman who was injured by a Chicago & Alton train on a bridge he was watching. There was a public crossing half a mile west of the bridge where every engineer was ordered by law to sound the bell and whistle. Pike said such a signal was not given, and the attorney for the railroad claimed Pike could not take advantage of this fact as he was hurt half mile away from the bridge. Judge Thayer said it was the duty of every engineer to ring or whistle and it was the neglect to do this that caused Pike to be hurt.

Judgment for $5,000.

Mrs. Mary A. Speori secured a judgment of $5,000 in the United States Court this morning against the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., of which her husband was a member when he died.

SISTER CAMILLA.

The Victim of Yesterday's Assault at Emporia, Kan., Conscious.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., September 27.—A special from Emporia to the Star says: Sister Camilla, who was so brutally beaten at Sacred Heart Convent yesterday afternoon, is conscious. She says her assailant is Murry, but does not know his first name. She also says she was persecuted by him in Terre Haute until she was obliged to leave. He followed her here, and continued, and on three different occasions sneaked into the building and attempted to kill her because she refused to go with him. He said he would kill her if he died for it. Officers are in pursuit of Murry.

The Cronin Case.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 27.—The impaneling of a jury in the Cronin case was taken up again at 1 p. m.

ARMY OF THE TENNESSEE.

The Society Adjourns To-Day—Gen. Howard's Eloquent Speech.

CINCINNATI, O., September 27.—It was 2 o'clock this morning when the members of the Army of the Tennessee reluctantly left the dining hall of the Burnet House at the close of the most enjoyable meeting ever held by the society. Gen. O. O. Howard, who was the last regular speaker, had roused them to a high pitch of enthusiasm by his peroration. He spoke to the toast "Atlanta is Ours, and Fairly Won," and in closing said:

"The cry 'Atlanta is Ours' made us see with brighter visions our sweet homes and we looked with lively hopes for a speedy return. And all the force of the inspiring sentiment rings in the ears of the surviving veterans of to-day. So they say to our governors, our guardians, Atlanta is ours; do not let it be again lost to us, lost to the country, lost to liberty. To burn there a pure, noble, one-armed comrade in effigy is not a good deed, not a good sign. It does not lessen the lawless offense that he is an officer of the United States simply doing his duty. The lion of possession and power only sleepeth. It is as easy to protect a United States Postmaster in Georgia as it is to protect a venerable United States Judge in California. [Tumultuous applause.] But I am sanguine and optimistic. As our leader suggested last night there is too much honor among the true men of those who fought against us to allow prejudice, passion and murder to become the ruling motive and power. The gray and the blue are shaking hands at Chattanooga. Let them join forces if need be and see to it that every citizen is fully protected in the rights and privileges which a nation has extended to him. United in honor as in law, we will indeed be a strong people, whom a just God will greatly bless." [Applause].

The veterans this morning are bidding each other good-by and returning to their homes to meet next year in Chicago. A material change was made in the fee for new members. The rule requiring the payment of back dues since 1869 was rescinded, and the membership fee for admission is now $10 alike to all.

CRIMINAL CORRECTION.

Gamblers Before the Court—A Lottery Dealer's Case.

Two appeal cases from the Second District Police Court are now pending in the Court of Criminal Correction. They are actions against the St. Louis Cable & Western Railway by the city in which the company was fined $100 in each case for failing to extend and operate its line to Taylor avenue. The first case was to-day continued until October 4, at which time the second case, newly filed, will also be heard.

The motion for a new trial in the case against Victor Jordan for selling lottery tickets was heard by Judge Campbell and overruled. Jordan was fined $200 on the charge. The motion being over-ruled, Attorney Fauntleroy filed a bill of exceptions, and will carry the case to the Court of Appeals in order to make a test case of the matter in the interest of the lottery dealers of the city. Jordan was commited to jail on the refusal of the counsel to furnish new bonds. An application for a writ of habeas corpus was then filed. Jordan is to the lottery dealers what Patriarch Singleton Cave is to the gamblers, and his colleagues have rallied to his support in order to test the law in the matter.

Rudolph Hoffman and Silas Riggs were tried for keeping a gambling house. The game, one of draw poker, was raided in June last by the direction of Detectives Moberly and Kelly. Officer Hancock, who had been smuggled into the game, prosecuted the case. Riggs was discharged. Hoffman was fined $200 and costs. The case was appealed.

Mike Sheely was tried for burglary and larceny and held to the Grand-jury in the sum of $800. On September 21, according to the testimony, Sheely attempted to break into the store of William Nalty, 1416 North Seventh street.

THE OPTION ACCEPTED.

Hollins & Co. Complete the Purchase of the United Electric Co.

The following circular was received to-day by stockholders of the United Electric Light & Power Co., upon which Hollins & Co. of New York, purchasers of all of the gas plants in the city, recently secured an option:

"DEAR SIR—Please call on John Nickerson, trustee, at the banking-house of the St. Louis National Bank on Saturday, September 28, 1889, and he will pay you 50 per cent of the par value of —— shares of stock in the United Electric Light & Power Co. deposited by you and give you a receipt for the stock, the balance due upon which, together with interest, will be due and payable on October 28 prox. If you have my receipt for the stock please take it with you and receive Mr. Nickerson's receipt for the same. Respectfully,
"D. R. POWELL."

IT MAY BE ABANDONED.

A Probable Result of the Coming Investigation at Jefferson Barracks.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—The Jefferson Barracks examination is going to be complete, and Inspector-General Maj. Lawton will leave here to-morrow probably to inaugurate the work. Chief of the Recruiting Service in New York Col. John N. Coppinger has also been ordered to pay monthly visits to that post and to make a report to the War Department upon the result of the service. In view of the great interest now being taken in the premises and after what Gen. Kelton has said as to the post being too old and in a bad sanitary condition for the purposes for which it is used, it is thought by some of the military attaches that the place may be reported upon for abandonment.

Escaped From Jail.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., September 27.—Six colored prisoners escaped from the County Jail in this city shortly before noon to-day. One of them knocked the keeper down, took his keys and revolver and before the alarm could be given the men were out and headed up the river. About twenty men, with bloodhounds, are in pursuit. The prisoners were being held for trial and among them there were some pretty hard cases.

Going to the Penitentiary.

Sheriff George W. Jamieson of Ralls County, Mo., arrived in this city this morning having in charge a prisoner named Edward M. Wensell, whom he placed in the jail for safe-keeping. Wensell was charged with murder in the first degree. He agreed to plead guilty to manslaughter in the second degree, and was sentenced to five years at Jefferson City. He will be taken to the Penitentiary this evening.

Not in a Trust.

Secretary Benj. Kimball of the Perfect Fire-Extinguisher Co. this afternoon mailed to Jefferson City an affidavit, in answer to the questions sent out by the Secretary of State, to the effect that his company has no connection whatever with any trust or pooling organization. The affidavit was made as soon as the blank was received, and he is confident of having the honor of being the first to make answer under the law.

The Weather.

Riding in summer-cars this morning was not at all pleasant. Closed cars with stoves would have been more comfortable. Every man who had a spring overcoat had it on to-day. The predictions of the Signal Service are as follows: For to-night, fair temperature; the same as last night. For to-morrow, fair, warmer.

BLIND LOVE.—The last novel of the great Wilkie Collins. Another installment in the next SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

BACKED BY MAJ. WARNER

DR. FITZPATRICK'S RIVAL FOR THE KANSAS CITY SURVEYORSHIP.

Ross Griffin Favored by the Ex-Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R.—The Chief of the Secret Service to Be Appointed Soon—Private Dalzell's Tip—Washington News.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—The recent telegram to the POST-DISPATCH announcing that the Kansas City Surveyorship of the Port would probably be disposed of early next week, induced Dr. Fitzpatrick, the principal applicant, to make a visit to the capital. The doctor is feeling very uneasy, although indorsed for the place by a large majority of the leading lights of his locality. His principal opponent, Ross Griffin, has Maj. Wm. Warner at his back, and the latter has said that Griffin was the man for the place. If defeated, as seems will now be the case, the doctor will attribute such action to the efforts of Major Warner. The latter, he claims, gave him a general letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, and the doctor construed that as meaning a full personal indorsement. He is just now engaged in discovering the difference between an unqualified indorsement and a lukewarm request. He will likely remain here until Mr. Burns' (the Democratic incumbent) time expires.

The continued ill health of Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson has prevented action in the Plattsburg, Boonville and other Missouri postmaster cases, but that the suspended commission of Sylvanis Young, appointed at Boonville, will soon be taken from the books and forwarded to him, is agreed upon.

Alfred H. White of St. Louis is here.

Maj. Brock was among Secretary Noble's callers to-day.

Mr. Frank Erskine of Missouri, who aspires to be Chief of the Secret Service, is still here and learns that the change in that office will likely be made some time within the next two weeks. Nothing can be lerrned as to the prospects of Furlong or his opponents at this time.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics has been agreed upon and may cut a figure in the former matter. Senator John Sherman has made an earnest effort for Mr. Thomson of Ohio for the Chiefship of the Bureau of Statistics, but retired upon being informed that the President had selected another man for the place.

Editor Sullivan of Gallatin, Mo., who recently resigned from a Pension Examiner's place, did so at the solicitation of Chief Rathbone of the Post-office Department, who has made him a Post-office Inspector.

Commissioner Groff's "Policy."

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—Land Commissioner Groff has recommended the appointment of Thos. P. Wilson, formerly a court reporter at Omaha, as his confidential Secretary. When questioned to-day as to his future policy in administering the affairs of the General Land Office, Mr. Groff replied that he had no policy except to administer the laws honestly and fairly. He had not yet decided whether or not he would recommend to Congress the repeal of all public land settlement laws, except the homestead laws, as has been done by some of his predecessors. The new chief clerk of the General Land Office, Mr. Redway, took charge of his office to-day.

Land for Geronimo.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—In a few days Secretary Proctor will send a board of army officers in company with a commission of the Indian Rights Association to conclude the purchase of the tract of land in North Carolina, upon which Geronimo and his Indians, now in Alabama, will be placed. This tract is in Western North Carolina near the Tennessee line from which it is separated by the Great Smoky Mountains. There are a number of Cherokees living there now, remnants of a band which refuses to go to the Indian Territory, and a Quaker settlement.

Private Dalzell's Tip.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—A morning paper publishes a letter from Private Dalzell announcing that he has private information that Gen. Brown of Ohio will succeed Commissioner Tanner. Notwithstanding the "secret tidings" which Private Dalzell has received there is another Richmond in the field, who is more than a bare possibility. This individual is A. B. Campbell of Topeka, Kan., who is now in the city and whose name was mentioned in connection with the commissionership in a dispatch from Deer Park.

Minister Douglass' Ship.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—The Secretary of the Navy decided this afternoon to revoke the orders commanding the steamer Ossippee to convey Minister Douglass from Norfolk to Hayti, it having been represented to him that the Ossippee's boilers are not in condition to make the sea trip. He then ordered the commandant of the United States steamer Kearsarge, now at New York, to prepare his ship to perform this service. She is about ready and will probably sail from New York, where Mr. Douglass will go by rail on Monday.

A Clerk's Promotion.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—Rufus I. Eckerson of Montana, a clerk of class 3 in the office of the Second Assistant Postmaster-General, has been appointed an Assistant Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service.

Gen. Clarkson's Trip.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—First Assistant-Postmaster Gen. Clarkson, accompanied by Col. Swords of the Treasury Department, left Washington to-day for a week's rest at Warm Springs, Va.

To-Day's Bond Offerings.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—To-day's bond offerings aggregated $606,500, as follows: Coupon 4s, $516,000 at 128; registered 4s, $46,000 at 128; coupon 4½s, $1,500 at 105¾; registered 4½s, $38,000 at 105¾.

Four per cents, registered, $100,000 and $18,000 at 128; 4½ per cents, registered, $30,000 at 105¾. All the offers were accepted.

CHESS AND CHECKMATES.

Progress of the Tourney Now in Progress in the City.

The following games were played in the chess tourney at the rooms of the Chess Club last night:

Game No. 23—Colby and Birds' second game, Bird giving pawn and move, lasted for one and three-fourth hours and forty-three moves, when Bird resigned.

Game No. 22—Rinkel and Fresch's second game, Rinkel giving queen's rook, was played for forty moves, when Fresch surrendered.

Game No. 24—William Haller and Woodward's second game, Haller giving Queen's knight, was very stubbornly contested and given up as a drawn battle after fifty-five moves had been made.

Game No. 25—Filden and Foster's first game, Foster giving pawn and move, lasted from 9 to 1:45 midnight, and Filden resigned on his thirty-sixth move, being a hard fight.

Kanaga and Love played on their first game, even terms, from 7:25 to 11:40, when they adjourned, after sixty-five moves being made, Kanaga having a knight and pawn against Love's rook and pawn.

L. Haller and Kroeger also adjourned on their second at 11:30, after three hours' play.

No. 27 was decided for Fresch. Fick and Woerner play this afternoon and Kanaga and Love to-morrow afternoon.

THOSE SUMMER CARS.

LINGERING WITH US LONG AFTER THEIR SEASON HAS GONE.

Sufferings of Passengers Unprotected From Chilling Winds—What the Managers Have Done and Propose to Do for the Accommodation of Their Dividend Makers—Hope for the Workingman.

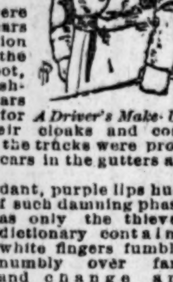

GLORIOUS weather for walking has been the rule of the past week, splendid weather for driving if one is plentifully protected with lap robes, but horrible pneumonia engendering weather for the patrons of street railway lines on which the summer cars have not been retired. In most lines of business conducted in this age by chasers after the nimble pennies the needs and even the whims of possible customers are carefully consulted. Street railway managers never consider either. So long as competitors neglect to furnish conveniences so long will they refuse necessary accommodations to their patrons.

In the early spring, when the snow has not yet melted in the hidden places, when only the robin has been seen in the trees, before the plumbers' assistants have ceased building fires over ground in which they wish to lay connecting pipes, and when only a scummy greenness on some well sunned land promises grass—the summer cars roll out of the snow-moistened sheds and the box-cars, with infected straw, retire.

FAR INTO THE FALL—

until the howling blizzard sweeps the streets of pedestrians, until even the cab man blankets his horse, until frost upon store show-windows hides even the lights within, and until the flower girl has abandoned the sale of hot-house blossoms—the summer car rolls without a day of rest, and the closed cars rot in the sheds.

A Driver's Make-Up.

Pictures of misery were the agued summer cars last night. Exposition visitors who crowded the Olive street, Union Depot, Cass avenue and Washington avenue open cars snuggled close for warmth, wrapped their cloaks and coats tighter and shook till the trucks were prone to leave the oscillating cars in the gutters and rush on unburdened.

Blue noses were abundant, purple lips hung wide for the emission of such damning phases as only the thieves' dictionary contains, white fingers fumbled numbly over fares and change and chilled limbs were pounded and waved in vain endeavor to hasten the circulation. For once who insists on occupying a sixth place in a seat meanly contrived for five was welcome. No one objected to the sqeeze. The harder the warmer. Why should the heat of human bodies be wasted on the general atmosphere when it could be applied to ameliorate the condition of one's neighbors? Charity demanded the delivery to persons in need of what one could not use one's self.

Indeed she wouldn't ride.

The wind had a whistle with it and needed no whiskered harp to aid in the production of its tremulo. It soughed through the cars and did all the acts on the programme of Rives & Co. without the aid of any stage property whatsoever. It was an old-timer in the misery spreading business, a 'star as it were, and asked no glittering moon, swaying forest trees nor crackling branches to support it.

The young man who has an opinion on the state of the weather and the young lady of the giggling inquiry, "Ain't it cold?" were ubiquitous. They were on every car, and spread warmth enough for a time to make the wind think he had mistaken his lines. Ever and anon the driver or grip man, trained through long days of summer and nights devoid of ease—to abide the hot-enough-for-you young man, would draw his switch-bar and look back under the torment; but ere it was full grown his wrath would be extinguished by the influence of the nipping breeze.

To freeze or not to freeze.

RELIEF AT HAND.

To-day the streets along the street car lines showed heavier columns of the rather-walk-than-freeze than usual. Some of the lines had recovered box cars and so sheltered if they did not warm their dividend makers. Others were thinking of abolishing misery. The Missouri Railway is thinking about the matter. Maybe, if the weather does not moderate materially in a day or two one box car will be put on every train of two cars. That will be the best the company can do until October 7, when under a contract with car builders it will receive twenty-two or twenty-three new box cars. The Citizens' Railway has changed to box cars except that summer cars are run at times during the day to accommodate the extra traffic of those times. The People's Railway is running open cars and probably will continue to do so until the snow flies or the cable conduit is completed, as the grades on the temporary parts of the road are very steep and summer cars are much lighter than the box cars. The Southern Railway (Sixth street) has "shedded" its summer cars. The Union Depot Railway has retired its open cars from the blue and yellow lines entirely and is to-day changing to closed cars on the Mound City and Jefferson avenue lines. The St. Louis, Cable & Western Railway has retired most of its open cars and will retire the rest. The St. Louis Railway (Broadway) is taking off the summer cars slowly and expects to have all box cars running next week, so the poor working man may have hopes.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

South and Central American Delegates Entertained in New York.

The sleeper did not leave the track. Train wreckers are responsible for the accident. No lives lost.

AMONG THE BROKERS.

Cleveland and Anchor Fails to Maintain Its Advance.

The feature of the Mining Exchange to-day, as it was yesterday, was in Cleveland and Anchor, though the market was reversed. Yesterday it sold up to $1, while to-day it sold down to 55 cents. Yesterday there was a supposed shortage of less than 2,000 shares. To-day it was known that the sellers had contracts for the stock so that they would be able to deliver it. Then the friends of the stock did nothing to support it, but allowed to go at will. J. J. Mullally, who was thought to have been caught badly yesterday, was the happiest man on the floor, with a good scalping profit to his credit. Outside of this a heavy selling of Black Oak, cash, and of West Granite on thirty days, were the only features. Sugar Trusts made a big break and Leads followed slightly. The clearings were only fair.

On call Adams was 26¼ bid, 27½ asked, 100 sold at 26¼; American, $2.12½ bid, $2.30 asked; Aztec, 21¼ bid, 26¼ asked; Black Oak, 200 sold at 16¼, 15 bid, 16¼ asked; Black Spar, ½ bid, 1 asked; Bremen, 2 asked; Cariboo, ½ bid; Central Silver, 57½ bid, 62½ asked, 100 sold at 58¾; Cleveland, 5 bid, 5½ asked, 2,000 sold at 5½; Cleveland and Anchor, 56¼ bid, 63¾ asked; Golden Era, 12 bid, 15 asked; Gold King, 32½ bid, 35 asked; Gold Run, 3½ bid, 4½ asked; Granite Mountain, $42.75 bid, $43.50 asked; Hope, $4.70 bid; I X L, 6½ bid, 8 asked; Ingram, 20 bid; Ironclad, 17½ bid; Ivanhoe, 35 asked; Jumbo, 2½ bid, 3½ asked; Keystone, 5½ bid, 6 asked; La Union, 6 bid, 7 asked; Little Giant, 4 bid, 4½ asked, 300 sold at 4½; Maj. * * *

The transactions after call were: American, 200 shares at $2.17½; Frisco, 1,000 at 16¼; Black Oak, of which it was said a great deal was closed out on margins and for which Goldman bid 13½ for all offered, late 1,300 at 15, 5,500 at 18½ and 500 at 13; Central Silver, 200 at 58¾; Keystone, 800 at 5½; Maj. Budd, 200 at 25; Neath, 200 at 20; Pat Murphy, 100 at 18¾; Tourtelotte, 500 at 7; West Granite, 800 cash at $1.15 and 3,400 seller thirty days at $1.15; Cleveland and Anchor, 200 at 58¾, 100 at 56¼ and 100 at 55.

The Frisco had in a good report to-day, showing 21 feet of progress on the east 400-foot level, making a total of 909 feet. They had struck a good vein of 4 feet, 30 inches in the roof and 16 inches on the floor. It carries galena and zinc. There is more water in the drift than was ever encountered before.

The Mountain Lion expects to make its first car-load shipment October 1. It has at least 200 feet of a vein, 15 inches wide, averaging $125 in value per ton. Under the contract drifting must continue for about thirty days yet, and as stoping retards the work regular stopes will not be begun until that time.

The Neath is in need of funds to complete the opening up of the vein. The Superintendent has notified the company that he has advanced $1,000 on his own account.

The Hope had a shipment of four bars, 6,289 ounces of silver. Another shipment will be made on October 1.

Financial circles were very much pleased this morning over the re-election of Mr. Charles Parsons as president of the American Bankers' Association. It is thought the next meeting will be held here.

The Neptune has a telegram from General Manager Rich, announcing that everything about the mine is in good condition. He has an assay made on every shot fired. They run from ½ to 50 ounces in gold, free milling, with an average of over $100 a ton. He is now arranging to ship high grade ore. The outcroppings show a width up to 200 feet, and for half a mile can be seen standing above the ground. They were always supposed to be low grade silver, until the Sunnyside opened up its wonderful gold deposit. The Neptune now has the same vein opened up. In the shaft, at its narrowest part, it shows 7 feet of solid ore. The company will erect a mill next year, and in the meantime will ship the highest grade ore. The Sunnyside Extension has a 20-stamp mill about ready to start up.

A. C. Einstein, superintendent of the Aztec, arrived in the city this morning to be present at the meeting of the stockholders to be held on October 5. He brought with him a box of ores, containing samples from every part of the mine. The Kleptomania is now saving 2¼ ounces of gold on the plates and yielding concentrates running over $100 to the ton. Everything is in good shape, they are taking out good ore, and it is steadily improving in grade. The company also received a retort for last week's run, nearly 120 ounces.

Work is progressing well on the Ironclad tunnel. A night shift is now being added, and the tunnel will be pushed as rapidly as possible. It starts from the gulch, and will strike the vein 200 feet below the lowest workings.

Letters from Kingston state that the excitement over the strike in the Comstock is increasing. The ore body is steadily increasing in size, and the strike is claimed now to be the biggest ever made in the country. The lessee is a small jeweler of Kingston. He was just about to give up in disgust when the strike was made. He is now a very rich man.

The break in Sugar Trust certificates was very heavy to-day, though transactions from St. Louis were small. The opinion was expressed that the break was partly due to the anti-trust law, and the determination to enforce it in this State. The close yesterday was at 96. To-day it opened at 95, sold down to 87⅝ and recovered to 89⅞. Leads were also weak, opening off at 23⅞, selling at 24½ and 22⅞ and recovering to 23½. Cottons were also off, being 49¾, 50 and 49⅝. There was nothing doing in Linseeds or Whiskys.

The clearings were $2,834,276, with balances of $477,701. New York, Cincinnati and Louisville exchange was par and Chicago and New Orleans 25 cents off.

Aged Blue Noses.

From the Boston Journal.

Nova Scotia is remarkable for the number of its old people. It has a larger number of centenarians than any other country, there being one to every 19,000 inhabitants, while England has only one to every 200,000. They are chiefly of the farming class, in comfortable circumstances, accustomed to exercise in the open air, plain food and plenty of it, with good inherited constitutions.

VETERANS GOING HOME.

THE LAST DAY OF THE REUNION OF SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

The Old Officers Re-Elected—A Letter Received From Mrs. John A. Logan Expressing Regret at Not Being Able to Attend—Raising of an Old Flag at the Fair Grounds To-Day.

To-day was the last day of the Soldiers and Sailors' Encampment at Belleville, and this evening and to-morrow morning the veterans will return to their homes. The reunion has been the most successful in every way ever held by the association. The crowd in attendance was immense. Belleville never saw anything like it before. The city certainly did itself proud in entertaining the guests, and the reunion will be long remembered with pleasure by all who attended.

TO-DAY'S PROGAMME.

The great feature of to-day's programme was a flag hanging at the "camp-fire" stand. The flag was captured by Capt. George Castle of Company H, One Hundred and Eleventh Regiment of Illinois Volunteers, at Fort McAllister at the opening of the Savannah campaign. At the death of the Captain two years ago he willed and bequeathed the flag to his brother James, who brought it to Belleville in a knapsack, in which it was carried for some time to keep the commanding officers from taking charge of it. The few survivors of the company cheered repeatedly when it was hung up in view and the remnant of the regiment took up the applause, and for some time the cheering was most enthusiastic.

The election of officers was attended by possibly 500 members of the association. The entire board was re-elected except the Chaplain, Rev. Green, who had removed from the district. The new officers are: Commander, Gen. J. S. Martin; Senior Vice Commander, Gen. C. W. Pavy; Junior Vice Commander, Capt. I. Clements; Quartermaster, Capt. W. B. Thistlewood; Chaplain, Rev. Dr. O. H. Clark; Surgeon, Dr. H. Wardner; Officer of the Day, Maj. J. P. Crooker; Officer of the Guard, Capt. J. F. Donovan; Adjutant Thomas W. Scott. Short speeches were made by Martin, Pavy, Clements, Chaplain Clark, Gov. Fifer, Col. Abbot. It is the custom of the organization to elect two citizens honorary members of the association from the city where the reunion is held. Jos. Penn and Edward Abend were accorded the honors and made members of the association. Resolutions were passed thanking the citizens for the hospitable manner in which they have entertained the visitors.

The Commander read a letter from Mrs. J. A. Logan. It was as follows:

MRS. LOGAN'S LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24, 1889.

Gen. Jas. A. Martin:

MY DEAR SIR—I am very sorry that it is impossible for me to attend the meeting at Belleville, Ill., as much as I desire to do so. I have always an irresistable desire to meet those who were such faithful friends of Gen. Logan. As the years go by and one by one they join the great throng on the other side I realize that in a few short years they will be no more and hence my deep regret when I am obliged to miss any opportunity of seeing them. Gen. Logan's interest in the welfare of every single one of them continued with him to the day of his death, and while I live, I shall feel the same, and beg you to extend to each of them my cordial greeting and sincere wishes for their individual prosperity and happiness. Very truly, MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN.

The letter was received with hearty applause. Mrs. Col. John Lynch of Olney, who has manifested great interest in the association, was made an honorary member of the association.

Gen. Powell, who has been sick for the past two days, was out this morning and visited the camp.

At a meeting of ex-prisoners of the late war to-day Gen. Pavy read a letter from H. Fisher of the St. Louis, Alton & Springfield Railroad, in which he said the road would carry all ex-prisoners to Springfield and return, free, who would attend the re-union at the capital October 16 and 17.

Seventy veterans of the 117th Regiment of Illinois Volunteers held a meeting last evening and elected Maj. Newsham President and Rev. J. D. Gillham Secretary. The Ninth Regiment of Illinois Volunteers held an adjourned meeting last evening and appointed a committee to erect a monument in honor of their fallen members at the National Cemetery at Shiloh.

Gov. Fifer addressed the veterans late yesterday afternoon at the Fair Grounds. His speech enthused the veterans very much, and at its conclusion three rousing cheers were given for "Private Joe." At the close of his address the young Ladies' Drill Corps gave an exhibition drill which greatly pleased the veterans and the crowd. The Governor and Gen. Martin shook hands with each one of the young ladies, when the drill was finished and congratulated them upon their proficiency.

SHE WAS A WILLING PRISONER.

Sisters of the Good Shepherd Explain a Sensational Story.

A sensational story was told in a noon edition of an afternoon paper to-day of the alleged confinement in the House of the Good Shepherd of Mrs. George Wockwitz for over a year against her will, and of her release under threats of legal proceedings. It was further described how Mr. Wockwitz met his wife near the convent, at 17th Chestnut street, immediately after her release, and of the affecting scene which occurred.

The Assistant Mother Superior at the House of the Good Shepherd was seen by a reporter, and told the following story: "Mrs. Wockwitz, whose maiden name was Miss Mamie Gavin, was admitted to the house a year ago last May on the application of her mother, who said that her daughter was intemparate, that her husband did not support her, and her father, Mr. Gavin, would not allow her to remain in the house with him. When she came here she adopted the name of Theresa. All who come here change their names and she followed the rule. She belonged to the class of penitents and was not a member of any society in the convent. She was not a sister, as has been stated. During the time she was here she did nothing at all. Her mother paid $5 per month for her board for three months, and then ceased to pay anything. We did not object to her refusal to work, because she was sick all the time she was here; her stomach had been so disordered by drink she could not retain food. Dr. Briggs and other physicians attended her. She never asked to be allowed to go away and was not restrained from going. Sometimes she would say that she wondered when her mother would come for her, but that was all. She became intimate with a young girl, Julia Liebreich, who had been put in here by her father when very young. Julia was known here as Aloyisa and was a consecrated penetent, but not a sister. Aloyisa was allowed to go out occasionally as she was in poor health and the confinement was not good for her. Two weeks ago Julia went out. I understand she visited Mrs. Wockwitz' husband and told him where his wife was. She did not return after that, but went to her father on Franklin avenue, where I believe she now is. Wockwitz sent a lawyer here day before yesterday, and he demanded the release of Mrs. Wockwitz, threatening legal proceedings. As we had no claim on the girl and were simply keeping her here to reform her, if possible, we let her go. I sent a note to her mother telling her Mrs. Wockwitz would be put out at 4 o'clock, and she promised to send her daughter Lily down for Theresa. Lily did not come, and I understand Theresa was met at the gate by her husband."

Mrs. Wockwitz' father was once a member of the Board of Police Commissioners, and is well known in the city. As Miss Mamie Gavin Mrs. Wockwitz sang in several church choirs. She is an accomplished musician and is still possessed of a very fine voice.

The Opera-House in East St. Louis.

C. D. McCasland has purchased 1,000,000 brick from Kloess & Bro. of Belleville for the J. T. McCasland Land Co., to be used in erecting the opera-house on Broadway. The plans have been completed and the work will be commenced immediately. The building will be four stories high and will cost $40,000. It will be built at the foot of Seventh street and Broadway. The Opera-house will be fitted with the most modern improvements, lighted with electricity, and will have a seating capacity of 1,200. This will make a street railroad on Broadway a necessity, and the road will be built as soon as the franchise can be secured. There will be no objections raised to the road on this street.

SHAW'S STARTLING STORY

DISAFFECTED KNIGHTS OF LABOR TESTIFYING FOR THE MISSOURI PACIFIC.

Mortimer D. Shaw and John McGary Charge Knights With Burning Buildings and Threatening to Blow Up the Bridge—Sensational Accusations Concerning the Acquittal of the Wyandotte Wreckers—How the Trouble in the Order Originated.

Terrence V. Powderly, General Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, will arrive here next week. He is coming to St. Louis to heal the breach in the ranks, and prevent, if possible, a split in the order. A disruption of the Southwestern branch of the Knights of Labor is not at all improbable, because there is a row in the camp now and one side, at least, is talking. The quarrel started over the candidacy of Thos. Furlong for Chief of the United States Secret Service. Mr. Powderly protested against the appointment, and Mortimer D. Shaw and W. H. Blake made a trip to Philadelphia and saw Mr. Powderly. They showed him letters from Knights of Labor and proletarians in the Southwest, stating that there was no antagonism to Furlong, and Powderly withdrew his protest. Subsequently the charge was made that the letters were forgeries, and an attempt was made to expel Shaw from order, but it did not succeed. This led to a local split with Shaw, Blake and John McGary on one side and the majority of the Knights of Labor on the other, and since the division in the ranks there has been bitter warfare. The disaffected members still hold their membership in the order and they propose to oust Powderly if they can, and put in someone who is of their opinion.

The Southwestern strikes of 1886 have been a sore spot with the Knights of Labor. There were numbers of violent acts which were charged to them but which they denied. Freight-houses and cars were burned in East St. Louis, a train was wrecked in Wyandotte, Kan., the telegraph wires were tapped and the operations of the Southwestern roads were obstructed in a hundred different ways. Several attempts were made to fasten these crimes on Knights of Labor and on the order, but they invariably failed. In not one of the cases that were brought was a Knight of Labor convicted, and the prosecution was always repulsed. Certain members of the order, who wanted to advance their own interests, have threatened to furnish testimony implicating other Knights. Ever since 1886, and from time to time, they that they would reveal untold secrets, pull Powderly down and bring the order into disrepute. This bluff succeeded to a certain extent, but when Powderly published the statement that he had been deceived by Furlong's friends into withdrawing his protest against Furlong's appointment, several of these men, some of them being charged with forging letters and documents, revolted, and they have turned on their former friends. They talked in an apparently loose and careless manner about the incidents of the strike until their conversation was reported to the officers of the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. and then they were satisfied. The Missouri Pacific prosecuted the Wyandotte train wreckers and two of them were brought to trial. They were acquitted, and the cases against the others were dismissed. Among those who were discharged were Miles Leavy and Geers, and they have begun suits against the Missouri Pacific for damages for false imprisonment and defamation of character. When the Missouri Pacific officials heard how Shaw and the others were talking they applied to the District Court of Leavenworth, Kan., for permission to take depositions in Missouri and permission was granted. The depositions were begun yesterday afternoon. Several were taken and numbers of others will be. The principal witnesses yesterday were Mortimer D. Shaw, John McGary and W. H. Blake. Blake knew but little because he did not come here until after the big strike, but Shaw and McGary were here all through it and McGary was one of the local leaders. He attained a good deal of notoriety in connection with the strike and was the defendant in a criminal case that grew out of it.

SHAW AND M'GARY

opened up and began telling stories about the inside workings of the affairs. In substance they charged that the Knights of Labor were responsible for the burning of the Vandalia freight-house in East St. Louis and the Missouri Car-works in St. Charles. The most sensational story they told was that there was a scheme on foot for the blowing up of the bridge; that a barge loaded with dynamite was to be floated down to the central pier and then discharged by electricity. They further said that Powderly was cognizant of these plans as they were in direct telegraphic communication with him and consulted with him as to the methods pursued in carrying on the strike. They then took up the Wyandotte affair, and said that the Knights of Labor had spent money to acquit men that were guilty. The old story that Mortimer Shaw has been telling ever since Powderly threw him over was repeated; that Powderly had said that Furlong had forced the Knights of Labor to spend $30,000 in defense of its members; that the county from which the talesmen were drawn for the Wyandotte juries were all visited and seen, and the

was openly made. Shaw and McGary also told of an alleged conflict in the accounts of different members of the Knights of Labor concerning money spent in defending the Wyandotte men. The disbursing agent was DeLay of Kansas City, and they charge that DeLay says he spent $102,000 and that Powderly says $30,000 was spent. They say there is a discrepancy of $72,000 which the books do not account for, and aside from the depositions they are using this against the order. They also speak of the amount of money the officers spend, give vivid descriptions of Poverty Palace in Philadelphia, and accuse the officers of being officers for revenue only. Those statements, of course, come from the dissatisfied members. They have not been substantiated.

THE TAKING OF DEPOSITIONS

has been adjourned until next week, when Powderly and Treasurer Hayes will be here. It is said that they will be subpœnaed and that they will be called upon to explain the statements which have been made. Messrs. Powderly and Hayes will be here next week to try and heal the breach which has been caused in the order by the Furlong matter, but what action they will take in view of the new turn which matters have taken is a question. They will come and their testimony will be taken. They will doubtless have something to say concerning the men who have made the charges and that will, no doubt, be the most interesting part of their testimony. The part the Missouri Pacific is playing in the matter is that of defendant in a damage suit. Furlong is staying out of it as much as he can, but the Knights of Labor have been put in an unfortunate position by disaffected members who have fallen out with Mr. Powderly over Furlong and are using the Missouri Pacific as a club with which to beat the order.

"BLACK BART'S" ESCAPE.

The Stage-Robber and Murderer of Fleischbein at Large.

BESSEMER, Mich., September 27.—The Gogebic stage-robber, Raymund Holzhay, otherwise known as "Black Bart," together with several other prisoners, made his escape from the county jail here this morning. He was brought here from Republic, where he was arrested some days ago for holding up the Gogebic stage and murdering one of its occupants, Mr. Fleischbein of Illinois. The Sheriff has called out a posse comitatus to pursue the fugitives, and telegraphed to all neighboring points to intercept him in his flight. The citizens are much excited and are turning out in large numbers to join in the man hunt. It is also said that bloodhounds have been telegraphed for to take up the trail.

The Story of the Robbery.

"Black Bart" was charged with robbing a stage which plies between Gogebic Station, Mich., on the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western railway and a summer resort hotel on Gogebic Lake, three miles distant. On Monday, August 24, the stage left the station with A. C. Fleischbein of Belleville, Robert Rintoul of Chicago, Wm. Paddon of Chicago, and Donald Mackarchar of Minneapolis inside. At 11:30 a. m. a man stopped the stage in a lonely place. One passenger drew a revolver and fired at the robber, and the latter returned the fire, hitting A. C. Fleischbein in the left hip. The stage horses jerked at the traces, the stage lurched and Fleischbein fell in the road. Mackarchar received two bullets, one in the left side of the head and another in the leg. The robber took $40 from Fleischbein, a watch chain and ring. The stage driver whipped up his team and left the Belleville man lying in the road wounded. Help did not reach him until three hours later and he died a few hours later of his wound. Mackarchar recovered.

Reymund Holzhay was captured at Republic, Mich., on August 31 on description. Stolen property was found on him, and after a short confinement he admitted that he was the man who had held up the Gogebic stage.

What a Lemon Will Do.

From the Detroit Free Press.

Lemonade made from the juice of the lemon is one of the best and safest drinks for any person, whether in health or not. It is suitable for all stomach diseases, excellent in sickness, in cases of jaundice, gravel, liver complaint, inflammation of the bowels and fevers. It is a specific against worms and skin complaints. The pippin crushed may be used with sugar and water and taken as a drink. Lemon juice is the best antiscorbutic remedy known. It not only cures the disease, but prevents it. Sailors make daily use of it for this purpose. We advise every one to rub their gums with lemon juice to keep them in a healthy condition.

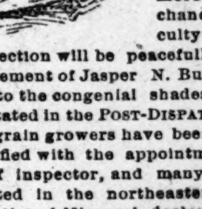

The hands and nails are also kept clean, white and supple by the daily use of lemon instead of soap. It also prevents chilblains. Lemon is used in intermittent fevers, mixed with strong, hot, black coffee, without sugar. Neuralgia, it is said, may be cured by rubbing the part affected with a cut lemon. It is valuable also to cure warts. It will remove dandruff by rubbing the roots of the hair with it. It will alleviate and finally cure coughs and colds, and heal diseased lungs if taken hot on going to bed at night. Its uses are manifold, and the more we employ it internally the better we shall find ourselves. A doctor in Rome is trying it experimentally in malarial fevers with great success, and thinks that it will in time supersede quinine.

A MOVE AGAINST BURKS.

NORTH MISSOURI FARMERS TO ASK FOR A NEW GRAIN INSPECTOR.

A Strong Movement to Induce the Railroad Commissioners to Abandon Burks—Legal Advice Being Sought on the Subject—How a Senatorial Indorsement Was Misrepresented.

IF the letters received by two or three well-known grain receivers can be considered as indicative of the course to be pursued by the Missouri wheat growers, there seems to be more than one good chance that the difficulty in regard to grain inspection will be peacefully settled by the retirement of Jasper N. Burks and his deputies to the congenial shades of private life. As stated in the POST-DISPATCH of yesterday, the grain growers have been very much dissatisfied with the appointments made by the chief inspector, and many, especially those located in the northeastern and northern counties of Missouri, declare that if a change is not made that they will be compelled to send their grain to Chicago, where intelligent inspection can be obtained.

Recognizing the dangers incident to ignorant inspection, a number of the largest northern landowners have combined and are preparing a petition to be addressed to the Railroad Commissioners, asking that the appointment of deputy inspectors and especially that of the chief inspector be reconsidered. The letters addressed to local receivers were for information as to the legal status of the case. Answers were returned that Burks was not now chief inspector, as the Attorney-General of the State had decided that the inspection law did not go into effect until November 1, and that all appointments made before the office came into existence amounted to nothing. The Railroad Commissioners had, it was said, practically admitted that if Burks was to hold the office he must be reappointed. The farmers have taken this view of the matter, to judge by their letters, and a strong petition will be drawn up asking that a Chief Inspector be named who has some practical knowledge of grain in place of the one irregularly appointed.

In this not a few of the professional politicians will join. A letter was received from Monroe County by a well-known Democrat, declaring that the people were highly indignant over what they considered an aggravated case of deceit. It had been represented that Burks was indorsed by Senator Vest and this view of the case had been taken by many who requested the Railroad Commissioners to appoint him Chief Inspector. It is now alleged that Vest had indorsed McMahon for Chief Inspector, and had suggested that Burks should be appointed as one of the deputies. The fact that Burks had been recommended by Vest had been made use of by his friends, the office for which he was named being kept carefully in the background, and it being known that he was a candidate for the chief inspectorship. This was regarded as a suppressio veri by the men who indorsed him for the higher position, and many are on the warpath for his scalp since the McMahon imbroglio has developed the true status of the case.

Valuable Hints.

To set the color in black or dark hosiery, calicoes, cambrics, etc., put a large tablespoonful of black pepper into a pail of water, and let the articles lie in soak for a couple of hours.

Mildewed linen may be restored by soaping the spots while wet, covering them with fine chalk scraped to powder and rubbing it well in; or soak in buttermilk and spread on the grass in the sun.

Cut glass, the crevices of which readily secrete dust, needs to be washed with hot suds and the cuttings scrubbed with a moderately stiff brush. Then rinse in warm water and wipe dry with tissue paper.

Never use soap in the water when cleaning oilcloth. It fades the colors and breaks up the paint. Ammonia, also, is to be avoided, because it gives the cloth a dull, dead look. If a brush is used it should be a soft one, but it is better is not to use any except in cases where the oilcloth has been long neglected or poorly washed for some time previously.

Potato poultices are used with success in opthalmia, or inflammation of the eyes. It is stated that when the trouble has been of an acute character, these poultices have proved successful when other kinds have failed. The following is the recipe for making them: Boil the common potato, mash or bruise soft, and then stir in a little finely pulverized elm bark. Apply the poultices in the usual manner.

Scented powders for sachets, handkerchief boxes and bureau drawer pads can easily be made at home. For rose powder, mix three ounces of cornstarch with one of orris powder, and pass through a fine sieve. Pour on eight drops of ottar of rose, and mix well. For violet powder mix together four ounces of orris powder, twenty drops of essence of bergamont and twenty drops of essence of ambergris.

SPAIN'S LITTLE KING.

A Baby Monarch Who Leads a Singularly Happy Life.

From the New York Tribune.

The little fellow's life at San Sebastien is a singularly happy one, and he enjoys far more freedom and liberty of action than he does at Madrid. Every morning, punctually at 8 o'clock, when the guard is relieved, he steps out on the low and spacious balcony of the royal chateau in order to listen to the music of the regimental band. There is always a crowd of children assembled to see him appear, and, as he knows many of them personally by name, he leans over the balcony to talk to them, and the quaintest kind of conversations ensue. They are generally interrupted by a tap on the window, on hearing which the little King cries: "Adios, au revoir; I must go in; mamma is waiting for me." Shortly after 9 he appears on the sands escorted by Mme. Tacon, Raimunda and a couple of footmen, and plays around in the most thoroughly democratic manner with his sister and other children of his acquaintance. At 12 o'clock, after having dug and romped and paddled about barefooted in the water to his heart's content, he returns to the chateau for luncheon, and on his arrival the palace guard turns out and the bugle sounds, a noise which His Most Catholic Majesty often attempts to imitate. At 5 o'clock he goes out for a drive, and as he comes down the steps to the carriage the Royal Halberdiers range themselves, one on each step, on either side of the stairs. As soon as he is seated in the carriage he turns to Col. Loigorri, the Chief of the Halberdiers, and in obedience to the instructions which he has received exclaims with the utmost gravity: "Let them retire." At 8 o'clock the little chap, who is in splendid health, is put to bed, his mother being invariably present to say his prayers with him and to kiss him good night.

While passing a weighing-machine the other day on the esplanade at San Sebastien, with the children, the Queen took it into her head to get the whole party weighed. The scales tipped the beam at the following figures: King Alfonso weighs 35 pounds; his mother, the Queen Regent, 118; his elder sister, the Princess of the Asturias, 48, and the Infanta Maria Theresia, 45. That is to say, the entire family weighs just three pounds less than the old, but venerable Queen Isabella II. The Regent while at San Sebastien spends much of her time in driving a spirited four-in-hand team harnessed to an English break. She handles the ribbons with thoroughly Austrian skill.

Sevres Porcelain.

From the Youth's Companion.

Among the interesting exhibits by French manufacturers, at the Paris Exhibition this summer, is a very beautiful one from the famous Sevres Porcelain Factory. The display includes 440 separate pieces, varying from dainty cups, saucers and plates, to vases and urns of enormous size, statuettes, portraits and even the most delicate bouquets of flowers. Many of the pieces at once impress the observer as beautiful, while others seem a little "pronounced" in their vivid blues and greens.

Almost every tint which can be imparted to porcelain is here: white, turquoise blue, all the greens, the delicate rose-pink which has received the name of "Dubarry," and even scarlet, which has hitherto proved one of the most difficult of colors to retain under the fierce heat of the baking furnaces.

The manufacture of Sevres ware is one of the best, oldest and most characteristic arts of the French. The Sevres potteries have long been under the direct control and patronage of the Government, and are in receipt of an annual subsidy of more than six hundred thousand francs. The proceeds from sales go to the State treasury. Many fine pieces are sent as gifts to foreign countries.

It may be interesting to note the origin of an art which has attained such a world-wide celebrity.

A royal porcelain factory was first established at Vincennes in 1745, under Louis XV., and produced many notable pieces of ware, particularly bouquets. On one occasion, it is related, His Majesty was the victim of a practical joke. One of the exceedingly life-like bouquets having been placed in his greenhouse by the royal favorite, Mme. de Pompadour, the king, on his next visit to the place, stooped and, in all good faith, attempted to smell the rare exotic.

The factory was transferred from Vincennes to Sevres in 1756, since which date it has sent forth works of almost inestimable value. Porcelain pastes, colored by metallic oxides, are now compounded there which resist the action of the most fiery furnace; and the enamels and glazes have a marvellous transparency and luster.

Sevres porcelain has always been an expensive production, for the most skilled artists have been employed in its manufacture. Formerly the finest pieces were made solely for royalty, and were sold only by royal permission. The prices paid, in modern times, for some of these specimens, have steadily increased till they have become enormous.

Cups, saucers and bowls go off readily at $500, or more. At a recent sale, a pair of rose Dubarry vases were purchased for the sum of 1,850 guineas, almost $10,000, while cups and saucers went off at 150 guineas. During the present year, single plates have sold for $1,000 each, and vases from $2,500 upward.

A few years ago the enormous sum of $50,000 was paid for a single set of three jardinieres.

DANFORTH KNOCKED OUT

JOE SOTO PUTS HIM TO SLEEP AT LOS ANGELES, CAL.

The Browns Defeat the Louisvilles—Boston and New York Tied—Reporter Captures the Second Special—A Challenge From the Owner of Nelson—Trotters Coming to St. Louis—General Sporting News.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., September 27.—Joe Soto of Los Angeles, and Tommy Danforth of New York, lightweights, fought last night for a purse of $650, at the Southern California Athletic Club. Danforth forced the fighting from the sixteenth to the twenty-fourth round, when Soto nearly knocked him out by a right-hander on the head. Soto drew first blood in the eighteenth round. In the twenty-fifth round Danforth landed on Soto's eye, blood flowing freely. At midnight thirty-eight rounds had been fought, and Danforth was the fresher of the two. There was furious fighting in the last five rounds. In the fiftieth Danforth was nearly knocked out by a blow on the neck. In the fifty-first round Soto struck Danforth on the jaw, flooring him. Before Danforth could recover from its effects Soto landed a terrible blow on the neck, knocking him out.

John L. Owns Up.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, September 27.—John L. Sullivan arrived in town from Fishkill last night. He was as sober as a hitching-post and was philosophical in talking about his failure to turn up on Monday at the Clermont Avenue Rink in Brooklyn. Charley Johnston, his friend, backer and manager, had to settle bills amounting to $600 because of Sullivan's absence.

"I made a mistake," said Sullivan, "there is no use lying about it. There was too much booze and I made a mistake. I am ashamed of it and I don't know what I can say to Charley Johnston. He has been one of my best friends. All I can say to you is that big men in public life make mistakes. Politicians and clergymen sometimes make mistakes. I made a mistake this time. It is the second one since I began sparring in 1871. The first one was in Madison Square Garden. I feel bad to think I disappointed the public and I don't know how I can face Charley Johnston. I will write him a letter telling him all about it and I believe he will overlook it."

The Disputed Columbus Games.

The Ohio State Journal, speaking of the disputed Brooklyn-Columbus game in connection with the meeting of the directors last Monday, says: "Messrs. Born and Lazarus were concerned in three attempts to bring this very case before the Board of Directors, but unsuccessfully. Messrs. W. H. Whittaker, representing the Athletic Club, and L. S. Parsons, the new President of the Louisville Club, both called up the Brooklyn game and asked that the Columbus Club be allowed to present their evidence and affidavits in the case, but they were ruled out of order on the parliamentary ground that the meeting of the board was a special one, called for a specific purpose, and that it was not competent to bring any other business before it—a ruling that will be recognized as perfectly good. This objection came from gentlemen who are friends of the Columbus Club management, and will vote for this city when the time comes."

To-Morrow's Game.

The Louisvilles play the Browns again to-morrow at Sportsman's Park, and Col. Tom Ramsey will in all probability pitch against his old club. The Browns still have a chance to win the pennant, providing they keep on winning. The games of to-morrow and Sunday will be the last the two teams will play in St. Louis this year. Jack Boyle will probably cover third to-morrow. He is a clever infielder as well as a brilliant catcher. Play will be called at 3:30 p. m.

Base Ball Briefs.

Tom Ramsey will, in all probability, pitch against his old club to-morrow.

The Louisvilles make their farewell appearance at Sportsman's Park Sunday. It will be the last Sunday game in St. Louis this season.

The Brooklyns and Baltimores play in Brooklyn to-day, to-morrow and Sunday. The Baltimores ought to win two out of three games.

Horsemen Coming to St. Louis.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

PHILADELPHIA, September 27.—When the horsemen awoke this morning and found that it had ceased raining they began to think that the decision of the Driving Park Association in cancelling the whole programme for the grand circuit meeting last evening was rather premature. However, there was no help for it, and by noon most of the stables were on the march for the railway, where they embarked for the different points at which meetings will be held next week. Some of them go to Trenton for the Interstate Fair, while others have engagements at St. Louis and various points in the West and Southwest. Bud Doble remains here till Saturday, when he starts for St. Louis. He will work those of his string that have going engagements next week. Knapsack McCarthy will also be at the Missouri City, and says he will return to New York after he has got through trotting.

Nelson's Owner Talks.

BOSTON, Mass., September 27.—Mr. C. H. Nelson, owner of the Maine stallion Nelson, is out in the following self-explanatory letter:

To the Editor of the Globe:

In reply to the reports in regard to the stallion race not being won on its merits I make the following proposition: I will trot Nelson against Alcyron over Mystic Park next Tuesday or Wednesday for from $2,500 to $4,000 a side to satisfy the public that my horse can win on his merits. I have an offer to sell Nelson for very big money, but I have canceled the sale until this race can be trotted. The Globe can name the judges.

Sporting Notes.

The $6,000 race between the yachts Fredonia and Hesper was sailed near Boston yesterday, and the Fredonia won easily. The course was forty miles and the Hesper was beaten almost 20 minutes.

Paddy Ryan, the heavy weight who once fought Sullivan, insulted "Prof." John Donaldson in a San Francisco saloon yesterday morning, and the latter pummeled him until the proprietor begged him to desist. Paddy merely covered his face with his arms like a boy and did not attempt to fight back.

Oliver Wiseman's Death.

Oliver F. Wiseman, the well-known bookmaker, died last night of consumption at his home in this city. His death had been expected daily for a week. He was taken down in the East and went South. He remained there but a few weeks and then returned to St. Louis in a dying condition. He was 30 years of age and for ten years has been a prominent figure in the racing world. He inherited a fortune and acquired the reputation of being a plunger. He went into the bucket-shop business for a while, but gave it up to his brother after a short experience and continued to follow the turf. He owned a stable of racers, the most noted of which was Unique. The condition of his private affairs is not known by his friends, but it is reported that in various insurance companies and societies he carried $85,000 on his life. The funeral will take place Sunday from the family residence, 3738 Olive street, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

An Incendiary's Work.

LAUREL, Del., September 27.—The large granaries, warehouses and stables on the farm of Wm. S. Moore on the outskirts of the town were totally destroyed by fire last night. As a result Mr. Moore is frantic with grief, and it is feared the shock will prove fatal to him and his wife, both being aged people. After a desperate battle the residence was saved, but while the attention of the people was drawn to the fire some colored men carried off his household goods. Two of the culprits were detected in the act and narrowly escaped lynching from the frenzied mob which had collected. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Mr. Moore suspects a former laborer. The loss is $7,000, with about $2,000 insurance.

AN UNFORTUNATE WAITER.

Charles A. Howard, Formerly of the Southern, Arrested in New York.

Dispatches from New York announce the arrest of Charles A. Howard, formerly of this city, on a charge of vagrancy. Mr. Howard, it is stated, tried to obtain board and lodging on the ground that he was a Government detective, and was engaged in an important case. He also said that he was to be joined by a number of subordinates, for whom he also wished rooms reserved. Mrs. Braun, the boarding housekeeper, suspected that something was wrong and put the case in the hands of the police. Howard's statements were found to be false, and his arrest followed.

Habitues of the Southern Hotel remember Howard, commonly called Alec, as he acted as head waiter about eighteen months ago. He gave complete satisfaction to his employers, but suddenly announced that he wished to resign, as he had fallen heir to a large fortune in England. He had frequently talked wildly of his great expectations, but little attention had been paid to his statements, as they were supposed to be mere boasts. On leaving the Southern he went to the Lindell, and tried to engage a suite of eight rooms on the parlor floor for himself and valet. As he had little money his request was not complied with, and as he began to make trouble, he was ejected from the hotel. He then went to the Southern, and again refused rooms. After spending some days in the city, drinking freely with his acquaintances, he left, ostensibly for England. It was supposed at the time that he was insane. His friends say that he went to England, but was unable to find the fortune of which he was in search. He returned to this country, and has since been doing odd jobs in Philadelphia. When arrested he was penniless.

A DUPLICATE KEY

Furnished the Explanation of a Case of Burglary and Larceny.

At 3:30 o'clock this morning Sergt. Garvin, Officers Hough, Freeman and McMullen surrounded a house at Fourth and Plum streets and arrested three men, who when taken to the Central District station, gave their names as George A. Brown, James Keating and John Sullivan.

At 9 o'clock Wm. C. Nebo and James W. Waller, two young men living at 1235 Chouteau avenue called at the station and identified numberless articles of clothing worn by the prisoners as their personal property. A pitiful story of ingratitude was also unfolded. It seems that Nebo and Brown became acquainted some six months ago while in Washington, D. C. Shortly afterward Nebo moved to this city. Brown came on two weeks ago and lived with his old friend for over a week until he had secured work. During that time he carried a key to Nebo's room. A few days ago he returned the key and left. Wednesday, during the absence of Nebo and Waller, their room was ransacked, almost every portable article of value being carried away. When searched a duplicate key to Nebo's room was found on Brown's person and the whole story was told. Nebo has sworn out a warrant charging his fickle friend and his accomplices with burglary and larceny and will push the case in the courts.

INVESTING IN IRRIGATION.

Another St. Louis Company Embarks in the Business on a Large Scale.

A few weeks ago the POST-DISPATCH gave an account of a large purchase of land made by the Colorado & Kansas Canal & Irrigation Co., in which the Granite Mountain people are large stockholders. Before this St. Louis had two large irrigation enterprises in New Mexico and Arizona. Now comes a fourth, the Taos Valley Co., operating in Colorado and New Mexico. It was learned this morning that they had just negotiated with the Holland Trust Co. of New York to take $100,000 of bonds, and with the money realized will push the work as rapidly as possible. The company was organized some time ago by Western people, but recently it has been taken in St. Louis with W. A. Hudson as President, and the placing of these bonds and the letting of the contract is the first important step taken. Contracts have also just been completed for building a dam with headgates on the Conejos River, for enlarging the dam and headgates on the San Antonio River and for constructing seventeen miles of lateral ditches and fifteen and twenty-four miles already constructed in perfect condition for delivering water next spring. The contract calls for the completion of the work in seven months. The company has a capital stock of $1,500,000 in $10 shares, of which $1,000,000 have been issued.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES.

John Farrell, a Painter, Fatally Hurt While at Work.

An inquest was held at the Coroner's office this morning in the case of John Farrell. The deceased was a painter who fell from a scaffold while at work on a building at 2807 Delmar avenue yesterday afternoon. At 5 o'clock p. m. he was taken to the City Hospital, where he died this morning without recovering consciousness. An examination showed that his skull had been fractured, and a verdict of accidental death was returned. Farrell was a married man, 32 years of age, living at 2014 Cass avenue.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES.

CONSECRATION OF THE NEW CHURCH OF OUR LADY OF HELP.

Bishops Bonacum and Janssen to Conduct the Ceremony Next Sunday—Uhrig's Cave Meetings—First Methodist Church Matter—Christian Home Thanksgiving Entertainment—St. Rose's Church Festival—Notes.

BISHOP BONACUM of Lincoln, Neb., arrived in the city yesterday. He is here for the purpose of conducting the consecration of the new church of Our Lady of Perpetual Succor on College Hill next Sunday. Bishop Janssen of Belleville will be the celebrant of the mass. The service of consecration is a long one, and will be quite impressive. During the celebration of pontifical high mass in the morning there will be solemn pontifical vespers and a sermon in English by Rev. Father Talion of the Church of the Holy Name of Jesus. The new church of Our Lady of Help is one of the finest Catholic churches in the city. It is also very large. Father A. J. Schilling is the rector, and is deserving of much of the credit due the parish for the handsome edifice of worship which it now boasts.

Funds for Indian Missions.

The following facts in regard to the distribution by the Government of funds for the Indian Missions is interesting: During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1886, contracts amounting to $174,819 were awarded the various sectarian missionary organizations for mission schools among the Indians. The next year the amount was increased to $309,774, and in 1888 it reached $322,824. During the fiscal year just closed, June 30, 1889, the Government expended $476,150 for Indian mission schools under the direction of sectarian societies. During each of these years the Catholic societies have received more than half of the amount. It has been exceedingly difficult under the direction of the Bureau of Catholic Missions. The Presbyterians, the Episcopalians, the Methodists, the Lutherans and a few other Protestant denominational bodies have been awarded school contracts. In 1886 the Catholics handled $118,343, and the Presbyterians came next with only $32,982. In 1888 the Catholics expended $194,535 for the Government, and the amount allowed the Presbyterians was increased to $37,910. For the year ending June 30, 1889, the Catholics received $221,169, and the allowance of the Presbyterians was reduced to $36,000. During the fiscal year just closed the Catholic missions were awarded $247,675, the Presbyterians got $41,625, the Episcopalians $12,150, and the Methodists $2,725.

Among the Mormons.

At the services of the Pilgrim Congregational Church in the Temple Israel Sunday morning Miss Hand, a teacher of the New West Commission among the Mormons, will give an account of the situation there, and the success of the efforts making to plant Christian institutions in that dark part of the country. The address will be of peculiar interest, as it will be made by one who knows. The service begins at 10:30. In the evening at 8 o'clock there will be the usual popular gospel service. In view of the great Day of Atonement, which has occurred this week, the subject of the discourse will be: "The Idea of Atonement in the Old Testament."

The First Methodist Church Matter.

A communication has been received signed by Messrs. E. C. Ketchum, James C. Essex, M. D. Degge, John C. Lallie, G. H. Consalman and M. F. Larkmore of the First Methodist Church in regard to the article on the troubles in that church, published in the POST-DISPATCH last Saturday. The communication is as follows:

"Our attention having been called to an article in last Saturday's POST-DISPATCH concerning the First Methodist Church of this city we desire to say that there was a reference to a former pastor—Rev. Irl R. Hicks—which was incorrect and which, in justice to that gentleman, we are unwilling to have pass. Mr. Hicks at no time during his delightful and successful pastorate at the First Church would consent to our placing his salary as high as one-half of $3,000. Eleven hundred dollars was the highest he would accept; and to our certain knowledge a goodly portion of that, through his noble and now sainted wife, as well as himself, found its way directly back into the depleted treasury of the 'Old Mother Church.'

"We desire to testify further that Mr. Hicks did not regard his appointment to the presiding eldership of the Charleston District as a 'step downward,' but, under proper conditions, as an honorable promotion."

The Christian Home.

The Christian Home and Infant Asylum having completed the first four months of its existence will have a "Harvest Home Thanksgiving Service" on Saturday, September 28, from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The institution is unsectarian and purely benevolent. There are at present fourteen babies, four of them with their mothers, besides a few old people, cared for by the home. An invitation is extended to all to come and see the little ones rescued from lives of neglect and suffering, and thus judge of the institution. The home is located on Ninth and Russell avenue. Mrs. Roger Hague is President, Mrs. Morton Secretary, and Mrs. V. O. Saunders Treasurer. The advisory Board consists of Mrs. Boyle, Mrs. Hinckley, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Niemeyer, Mrs. Bagby, Mrs. Watts, Mrs. Moise, Mrs Bounds, Mrs. Allison, Miss Hunter, Mrs. Torrey and others.

St. Rose's Church Festival.

On October 9 the parishioners of St. Rose's Catholic Church, Hamilton and Minerva avenues, will give a festival for the purpose of raising funds to assist in building a new house of worship. The new building will be of brick, and will be 50x100 feet in dimensions. It will be nicely finished and beautiful in architectural design. Mr. James Hartley is at the head of the Committee on Arrangements for the festival, and he and his fellow-workers are endeavoring to make it a success. Father O'Loughlin, the pastor, is popular with his people and they are anxious to do all they can to help him in his laudable undertaking. Mrs. James Young will have charge of the refreshment table at the festival and will be assisted by Mrs. George Prendergast. Mrs. Maggie Land will have charge of the fancy table. The festival will be held in Rinkel's Hall, corner of Easton and Hamilton avenues.

Uhrig's Cave Meetings.

The Rev. J. H. Brookes preaches at Uhrig's Cave to-night. Sunday there will be two services, led by Evangelist Sims; one in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, and another at 7:30 in the evening. Mr. Sims will take for the subject of his afternoon address, "Failing Away." In the evening he will preach from the subject, "Which Church is Nearest Right?" This is a question often asked an Evangelist by those who have become interested through the meetings and will undoubtedly be of great interest to many. The two meetings on Sunday will close the series at the Cave, but the meetings will be resumed Monday night at the Assembly Hall, 2123 Olive street. Mr. Swayne, who has been quite an attraction at the services, but was unable to attend last night, will be present to-night and Sunday to lead the singing.

IN JUDGE CADY'S COURT.

Tales of Woe to Which His Honor Was Obliged to Listen.

In the First District Police Court this morning Frank J. Schultes, an 18-year-old boy, was fined $10 for careless driving. On the evening of September 25, as shown by the testimony, Mr. D. Castleman Webb, a young attorney whose office is at 417 Pine, was riding on his bicycle to his home in the West End. While crossing Broadway on Pine his machine was struck by the shaft of a buggy in which young Schultes was seated. Webb was thrown from the machine and considerably shaken up. Witnesses testified that Schultes made no attempt to stop his horse, insisting that "a bicycle had no business in the middle of the street, anyway." Judge Cady recognized the bicyclist's right and fined the fresh young man accordingly.

The case against Louis Heilman was continued until to-morrow. Heilman is a young fellow whose father, Valentine Heilman, lives on Soulard street. The father wants his son sent out of the city. He insists that the boy refused to work, coming home drunk during the day and keeping the house, appropriating all the money and valuables which he may find and beating his mother and brother in case they offer any resistance.

John Caffery was fined $10 for disturbing the peace. Caffery, it is alleged, is an ex-convict. On the 26th inst. he was charged with robbing John Smith. Caffery was arrested by Officers Fuqua and O'Brien, but no case could be made against him for robbery, Judge Cady suspended execution, giving the prisoner forty hours to leave the city.

George Klein, alias Schumaker, is a chronic idler and vagrant. He will go South to spend the winter, as Judge Cady sent him out of the city on a $100 fine.

The case against Wm. E. Gillham, charged with allowing his furnished rooms to be frequented by disreputable persons, was continued by Attorney Lodge for the defense until October 4.

THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The Knickerbocker Contests to Close To-Morrow Afternoon.

The tournament being held at the grounds of the Knickerbocker Tennis Club has been pushed during the week to such an extent that the only games remaining to be played off are the contests in singles for the challenge medal between Messrs. Emmons and Cushman, and that in the final doubles between Messrs. Whitnell and Haydell on one side and Messrs. Allen and Wickham on the other. These will be completed to-morrow afternoon, play beginning about 3:30. The tournament has certainly been the most successful one ever held in the city, and the general character of the play demonstrates the fact that there is a steady advancement in the quality of St. Louis players. The complete score, in doubles and singles, will be published in these columns.

THE Mayor pronounced City Attorney BUTLER guilty on every count, but quashed the indictment.

THERE is a lively prospect that Corporal TANNER and Private DALZELL will go at each other with dictionary and tongues. Then there will be a war of words.

THE fact that this fall is an off season in local politics should lead citizens to concentrate their attention on the approaching school elections. Every vote should be made to count for a good candidate.

CITY ATTORNEY BUTLER says that he is on "top of the heap." When one considers, however, the nature of the heap which City Attorney BUTLER is on top of there is no desire to contest his position.

SENATOR PLUMB is on the right track in his determination to propose a Congressional investigation into army abuses in case the War Department investigation is not openly proved to have secured satisfactory results.

IN the national flower contest at the Exposition the golden rod won over the sunflower, which was the next best candidate. The noble sunflower is unfortunate in having a taint of Oscar Wildism still clinging to its gorgeous beauty.

REFERRING to ex-Senator RIDDLEBERGER's remark, "I draw the line between white and black," the Globe-Democrat says it would be better if he would draw the line between water and whisky. He does and the water is always on the outside.

ANOTHER big defection from the Mahoneites is reported in the bolting of Judge ROBERT W. HUGHES of the United States Circuit Court. It looks as if the Republican party of Virginia will be reduced to MAHONE and the colored voters before election day.

THE Mississippi Republicans after a warm contest have recognized the negro vote of the State by nominating a negro for Lieutenant-Governor. As there is not the slightest prospect of an office rewarding the labors of the campaign the negroes will not need much time to figure out the worth of this recognition.

THE raising of the World's Fair guarantee fund in this city is practically accomplished. The question of finding a suitable location is merely one of a choice of several splendid sites. The St. Louis end of the movement is in magnificent shape. And the congressional end will be like unto it when a fair consideration on the merits of the question of location has been made by Congress.

THE refreshing news comes from Washington that the President will take up the St. Louis offices at an early date. That the same news has been coming from Washington ever since March 4 does not impair its refreshing effect on the sanguine natures of local Republican office-seekers. They are experts in catching straws.

THE report of the Investigating Committee on the mismanagement of the Pension Office by TANNER is gradually filtering into publicity. It is a splendid vindication of Secretary NOBLE's action in demanding TANNER's removal, but it is also a condemnation of President HARRISON's plan to mollify TANNER with another appointment.

NO MATTER how thorough the investigation of Jefferson Barracks by a court of inquiry composed of army officers may be if it is made in secret the result will be unsatisfactory to the public. The charges have been openly made and should be openly met. In case the War Department does not see the matter in this light Congress should have an independent investigation made in order that there may be no doubt of the correction of the evils complained of in the army.

THE Paris Municipal Commission has declared the votes cast for BOULANGER and HENRI ROCHEFORT null and void. In casting about for a plan of increasing the Republican majority in Congress this winter the party leaders may find a valuable suggestion in the Paris Municipal Commission. Promptly declaring Democratic votes null and void would be simpler and easier than going through the form of a contest and declaring the Republican candidate elected.

AMONG the most important objects of the coming American conference, as set forth in the act of Congress calling it, are the regulation of the customs of the different nations so as to promote trade with each other and the adoption of a common silver coin, which shall be legal tender in all the countries of the continent. When the tariff walls have been battered down and a legal tender freely interchangeable has been secured, most of the blessings of commerce will flow from them.

THERE seems to be plenty of proof that Maj. BURKE made free use of redeemed but uncanceled State securities as collateral for personal loans while he was Treasurer of Louisiana, and his responsibility for the large fraudulent reissue of such securities is no longer questioned. Even if he felt sure he could protect the State and others from loss, such conduct was a gross breach of trust, if not an indictable offense under Louisiana law. He telegraphs from London that he will return and clear the matter up or meet the consequences. The Attorney-General of the State, however, expresses the opinion that Maj. BURKE must have known that he left a big defalcation covered up in the Treasurer's office, and must have known that the discovery was bound to be made sooner or later.

Foraker and Noble.

From the New York WORLD.

When Foraker of Ohio heard of the removal of Tanner he made a violent attack upon Secretary Noble, whom he charged with the responsibility for Tanner's discomfiture. He referred to the Secretary as an "obscure member" of the Cabinet. Afterwards he denied it and was confronted with a stenographic report of his speech. He is still trying to explain matters. The trouble with Foraker has always been his untruthfulness. He is as reckless as Tanner in his statements and possesses if anything less dignity of character.

Symphonies and Simpletons.

From the Boston Globe.

With the Symphony tickets selling at $95 each, can any one deny that Boston is the great centre of musical culture on this continent?

Nowhere else, it is safe to say, could there be found an audience with sufficient passion for music to induce the payment of such prices.

And yet, sad to relate, there are people, even in Boston, to whom Symphonies are a bore, and who pay the $95 and sit through the performance, not because they like it, but because it is fashionable.

A NEW YORK CONSPIRACY

PLANS CAREFULLY LAID FOR A STAMPEDE TO THAT CITY.

How the Gothamites Hope to Win the World's Fair—The New England States Will Oppose the Scheme—The Southwest and Its Position in the Canvass.

THE situation as regards the World's Fair agitation in the New England States is stated by C. L. Hubbard, a large manufacturer and an ex-Congressman from New Haven, Conn., who is at the Southern, to be as follows: "Some of our States are nominally for New York, but with the exception of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont I do not believe that any are truly desirous of having the Fair located there. It is even doubtful if Vermont is warmly in favor of New York, as that State has many interests in the Northwest. Massachusetts has already pronounced in favor of Washington and at least two and possibly three of the Connecticut Congressmen will vote for Chicago. Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut are almost as deeply interested in the advancement of Chicago as the residents of that city, as the mortgages which cover a great portion of Chicago are held in the East, principally in Boston and by the Hartford insurance companies.

THE NEW YORK SITUATION.

"That these States want Chicago chosen as the point for the World's Fair is evident, and such support as New York receives from the three Southern New England States will not amount to anything. The candidacy of Washington is not regarded as serious, as that city is not really in the race at all and does not want the Fair. The States that vote for the National Capital, with the possible exception of Delaware, Maryland and the Virginias, regard Washington as simply a stalking horse to enable them to conceal their real preference. I was in New York last week and talked with a number of members of the General Committee. All agreed that the full strength of New York would be developed during the first few ballots, and that if a majority could not be obtained early in the engagement New York would simply have to decide which city it should cast its influence in favor of. If Washington should drop out the hope of the New York men is that all the States favoring the National capital will vote for the larger city. If the Pacific Coast joins in it is expected that enough votes will be gained in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama to carry the day. These votes do not naturally belong to New York, whose influence really lies east of the Appalachians, and north of the Potomac. The Southern Atlantic States have no particular friendship for New York, but are intensely opposed to Chicago, and in a fight between the two cities would favor the former.

PLOTTING A STAMPEDE.

The New York men are hard at work with the North and South Carolina representatives and also those from Georgia and Florida, trying to induce them to lead a break in favor of New York on the third or fourth ballot. This will not be very difficult, as several representatives will, to my certain knowledge, vote for Washington simply on orders from the New York managers, so that they can change at the proper time. Everyone knows how breaks in a convention operate, and in a case like this Congress will not be unlike a nominating convention. All the plans are laid for a stampede for New York, and upon this the managers rely.

"The New England men are thoroughly alive to what is going on and are prepared to meet the move. As soon as a rush for New York from Washington manifests itself the three southern New England States, and possibly Vermont, will break for Chicago. What the result will be depends upon the action of the Southwest, and it will be found that this section, together with Ohio and Kentucky, really controls the situation. If Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama stand firm for St. Louis it will be practically impossible for either New York or Chicago to get a majority. If New York fails to win on the first break her bolt is shot. It that case it seems to me that St. Louis has by far the best chance. The whole Atlantic coast south of Chesapeake Bay would certainly vote for this city, with New York and Washington out of the field. New England would as certainly go to Chicago. The uncertain factors in this case would be New York, part of Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Southern Indiana, Kansas and the Pacific Slope. That New York would favor St. Louis is regarded as most probable, and would be practically certain were it not for the unfortunate circular issued to the South and Southwest criticising, at least by implication, Northern men and methods. But even with this I believe St. Louis can win if it can keep the Southwestern vote solid and gain the Pacific coast when the break comes, for the New York men say that if they can not win, Chicago shall not."

MAPS TO BE PRERARED.

Yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Site and Building Committee it was decided to have maps prepared of eligible sites, and Julius Pitzman was authorized to employ a draughtsman to draw up a topographical map of the section lying between Grand and Union avenues and the Fair Grounds and Tower Grove Park. Private parties are preparing maps setting forth the advantages of the northern and southern river fronts, and they will be presented to the Executive Committee. At 8 o'clock to-night the hotel proprietors will hold a meeting to devise means for raising the $150,000 assessed against them.

ALL HARD AT WORK.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock, a meeting of the retail dry goods men was held at the committee rooms in the Mermod & Jaccard building. Joseph Franklin took the chair, and announced that nearly the whole of the $150,000 allotment had been promised. The subscriptions were discussed, and it was agreed almost unanimously that at least $200,000 could be raised. Collectors were instructed to obtain the largest donations possible, irrespective of the total set by the Finance Committee, and it is expected that an even greater sum than $200,000 will be raised by this branch of trade.

The Committee on State Action held a meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Secretary McAdam presented a draft of a letter to be addressed to the different county and municipal officers of the State, requesting their co-operation, and asking that steps be taken to organize local committees in the interest of St. Louis. The letter was approved by the committee, and copies will be sent out within a few days to all local officials.

The Hardware Committee holds a meeting at 8 o'clock to-night. At a former meeting some dissatisfaction was manifested over the amount of the assessment, $100,000, but Frank Gaiennie presented matters in such a shape that one and all were perfectly satisfied, and the entire amount was practically pledged.

Messrs. McAdam and Douglas have been busily engaged in sending off maps and circulars. There have been a great many requests both from Missouri and other States, and an extra force of clerks has been employed to answer the communications.

LABOR NEWS.

The Cigarmakers' Convention Still Working on the Constitution.

NEW YORK, September 27.—The delegates to the Cigarmakers' International Union, now in session in Tammany Hall, are spending the day in revising the constitution. Although hundreds of proposals to alter the various sections are being made, the constitution so far practically remains as it was. Chas. Erb of Detroit proposed an amendment declaring that a member in one month's standing can get strike benefit. This was lost, the clause making a three months' standing necessary remaining as before. The amendment to make the salary of agents $3 a day instead of $18 a week and a dollar a day for expenses was also lost. The revision of the constitution will probably be finished by to-morrow night, when the convention will adjourn.

HELD AT MARSHALLTOWN.

Two Murderous Fire-Bugs Narrowly Escape Being Lynched in Iowa.

MARSHALLTOWN, Io., September 27.—At Holland, yesterday morning, J. N. Vennum, Principal of the school, went to the depot at an early hour to meet his wife. Two rough-looking men, who were there, after asking Vennum a few questions, began to threaten him and finally drove him away. Vennum found the Constable and the two returned, the latter with a lantern, to arrest the miscreants, but they attacked the Constable, breaking the lantern and setting the depot on fire. They escaped in the darkness and the fire was extinguished by the citizens. They were found at 10 o'clock at Reinbeck, in a box car. The Sheriff with three other citizens demanded their surrender. They climbed out and started to escape, one of them shooting at the posse as he ran. The Sheriff returned the fire, nine shots being exchanged. The tramps were not shot, but one of the bullets struck Archie Neat, an old resident, in the neck, inflicting a fatal wound. The villains escaped in the excitement, but were pursued and captured several hours later. They were brought to the Marshalltown jail last night for safe-keeping and to prevent lynching. They gave their names as John White and Thomas Williams and are desperate looking characters.

At an early hour this morning a great crowd surrounded the jail, clamoring for the Sheriff to give up the prisoners. This will not be done, and an attempt will probably be made to enter the jail and take the prisoners out. It is not likely that the crowd will be able to break the doors down, as the men, being mostly from the country, have no tools with which to work. The prisoners are cowering in a cell and imploring the officers to save them.

But for the quick removal to the jail here of White and Williams, the two tramps responsible for the Reinbeck shooting yesterday afternoon, there would have been a lynching. When the men were caught they were arraigned at Reinbeck merely on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and sent up for thirty days to await the result of Neal's injuries. An excited crowd had gathered, a rope was produced and but for an opportune train to this city both men would have swung. After the train left there was serious talk of organizing a crowd and riding to this city, but this was simply wild talk. The two men were seen in jail this morning. Williams refused to talk, but White finally acknowledging having done all the shooting. He declared he shot only at the Sheriff and expressed regret over the hitting of Neal, inquiring anxiously as to his condition. Reports sent out last night that the jail was surrounded were false. Neal is still alive, but will probably die. Excitement at Reinbeck still runs high, but there will be no attempt at lynching here.

COLLIDED WITH A SCHOONER.

The Frightful Accident at Carnegie's—Killed in a Runaway.

NEWPORT, R. I., September 27.—The steamer Providence of the Old Colony Line was in collision last evening with a three-masted schooner, the Avis, Capt. Farnsworth, of St. Johns, N. H. She came into her dock this morning late in consequence and with her starboard side forward of the paddlewheel open for sixty feet. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock off Schuyler's light, twenty-five miles from New York. The pilot of the steamer claims that the schooner displayed no lights. The schooner struck the steamer head on, ripping out sixty feet of the main deck guards with a small portion of the upper part of the hull, about thirty feet of the upper deck guards, and taking out five of the outside state-rooms. The schooner had her wheel head carried away. The Providence came to anchor at once and sent out two small boats in which the crew of the schooner were taken off. It was found that the Captain of the schooner was badly injured by the wheel, the force of the collision taking out every spoke. The Providence came to all right with her side open, the sea having only a slight swell and the steamer being kept well over to port. The passengers on the starboard side were somewhat frightened, but some on the port side did not know of the collision till morning. One state-room had its floor ripped out and an old lady who occupied the room fell through on her bed to the deck below, landing on some bags uninjured.

A Frightful Accident.

PITTSBURG, Pa., September 27.—A blast furnace, containing six tons of molten metal, burst last night in Carnegie's Edgar Thompson Steel-works at Braddock, and five persons were burned, two fatally. The furnace had not been working well for some time, and Capt. W. R. Jones, general manager of the works, was there to see if he could repair it. There were half a dozen men around the furnace when it broke. Capt. Jones was badly burned all over the body, Michael Quinn was burned so bad the flesh fell off; John Mokake burned about the body and Capt. Ned Quinn burned about arms and chest. Quinn and Mokake will die.

The men injured in the molten metal accident at the Edgar Thompson Steel-works last night, with probably two exceptions, are out of danger. Capt. W R. Jones is suffering a great deal from his wounds, but will recover. The fleshless body of Michal King, the missing Hungarian, was found about midnight embedded in the hot steel. It is stated that the lives of all the men at the furnaces were saved by an unknown hero, who, with wonderful presence of mind, turned the valve and shut off the blast as soon as the break occurred.

Killed in a Runaway.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., September 27.—Prof. Benj. E. Nichols was killed yesterday while trying to stop his runaway horse. Deceased had been a teacher in the public schools here for twenty-five years, and organized and conducted the commercial department in the High School.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Edwin Gould's Denial—A Santa Fe Cut Creates a Sensation.

NEW YORK, September 27.—The Times says: "Apropos of current reports that ex-President Strong of the Atchison is to become President of the Missouri Pacific, young Mr. Edwin Gould says: 'My father has always looked after his own roads. He is President of the Missouri Pacific and will continue in that capacity, as far as I know. He does not intend to give up that position.'"

The Santa Fe's Cut.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 27.—A private dispatch from New York received in this city this afternoon stated that there was a rumor in Wall street to the effect that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad was cutting rates and that the market was being affected by the report. Inquiry at the offices of the company in this city elicited the statement that the rumor probably grew out of the fact that the road had made excursion rates of one fare for the round trip to certain points on its lines west of the Missouri River. The rate, it declared, is an entirely open one and is in accordance with the rules of the commission.

General Manager Goddard was seen subsequently, and said that there was not a word of truth in the rumor.

COMMISSIONERS CLASH.

THE BOARD AND THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT DISAGREE.

The Matters Talked Over and Fixed Up—McMath Gets Excited—Commissioner Furlong Does the Same—Deep-Water Convention Delegates—The City Violating an Ordinance—Municipal Matters.

This morning at 10 o'clock the Building Committee of the Board of Public Improvements, consisting of Col. Flad, Park Commissioner Klemm, Sewer Commissioner McMath, and Harbor and Wharf Commissioner Murphy had a one-round set-to with Building Commissioner Furlong.

The proceedings opened much after the fashion of a quarrel between schoolboys.

It was all about contracts and bonds and specifications in which all parties to the controversy had a finger. The spat this morning was the outcome of the action of the committee yesterday in asking Commissioner Furlong to explain why he had not prepared some contracts in time. As soon as Mr. Furlong heard this he got up on his hind legs and reared. He was mad because the board had rebuked him. The members of the committee were mad because they thought Mr. Furlong was becoming too independent and was showing an inclination to kick over the traces. This morning the various commissioners met and talked all around the subject, none wishing to come out plainly. Commissioner Klemm opened the proceedings and talked awhile in a general sort of a way. Then Col. Flad took a hand and asked Mr. Furlong if he had said that the Republican clerks in the board office were trying to make trouble for him. Mr. Furlong said he was not responsible for statements published as coming from him. Then everybody got into the discussion, all talking at once and no one paying any attention to what any-one else was saying. By this time the committee was well warmed up and Mr. McMath told Mr. Furlong not to open his mouth to reporters until he knew what he was talking about. There arose a little question as to the time of filing certain papers. Mr. Furlong had the time about 8 o'clock and Mr. McMath an hour or so later. Mr. McMath, if he did not question Mr. Furlong's veracity, was right up in the neighborhood of it. After a great deal of round-about talk and much digression from the subject, the discussion was closed and the differences adjusted, and everybody cooled down. Mr. Furlong went back to his office and the commissioners went on with other business.

None of those interested can tell now exactly what the trouble was all about, and they are trying to decide who got the best of it.

The B. P. I.

The Board of Public Improvements held a regular meeting this morning and disposed of a quantity of routine business on hand.

The matter of cutting down the summit on Lafayette avenue, east of Grand avenue, was talked over and the proper permits arranged for.

The plans of the Union Depot Railway Co. for curves at various places along their line were submitted and approved.

Plans and specifications for improvements, repairs and alterations at some of the city institutions were approved and the bids on the work were called for.

A quantity of other matters were disposed of.

Sprinkling Matters.

Sprinkling Inspector Brown is taking steps to have a thorough revision of the entire sprinkling system next year as far as the list of streets to be sprinkled is concerned.

He is notifying every member of the House of Delegates of his intention, and has requested each one to suggest streets heretofore unsprinkled, which will need attention next year. Maps of each ward and each sprinkling district have been made showing the streets sprinkled this year, and those not sprinkled. All the new streets will be marked on these maps, and then the whole city re-divided and re-districted.

The extension of the system next year has become necessary from a variety of reasons. New streets have been opened and improved. Some heretofore unpaved or unmacadamized have been put in shape, and in many parts of the city houses have been built where there were vacant lots on both sides of the street.

In addition to the reorganization of the systems of sprinkling, Inspector Brown is trying to have King's highway from Forest Park southward sprinkled this fall. He said to-day: "I am now sprinkling Lindell avenue on Sundays outside of the contract by special arrangement, but much of the good done in that way is entirely undone by the dusty drives to the southward. Now that the driving on Sundays is being so much increased there ought to be something done to keep the dust down there. We have no water, however, and want some plugs along there."

Its Own Lawbreaker.

The city of St. Louis has been for a number of years past and is still violating an ordinance which in other cases is enforced very strictly, and has put itself in a position where it cannot for some time compel itself to comply with the law.

At the Work-house the boilers and engines in one of the departments are in charge of a prisoner in the Work-house who is not a licensed engineer as the law requires, but he is getting no pay for the work and there is no appropriation for a regular man. The matter was brought to the notice of the Mayor by Boiler Inspector McClelland, but nothing can be done at present. To get around the difficulty and to save the city from being the only violator of that particular ordinance it will be necessary to have the position of engineer created by the Municipal Assembly and the accompanying pay for the position appropriated at the same time.

Deep Water Delegates.

Senator Armstrong, Harbor Commissioner Murphy and President Cox of the Merchants' Exchange completed this morning the list of names selected as delegates to the Deep Water Convention to be held at Topeka on October 1. The list contains the names of those who are vitally interested in the matter of cheap and speedy transportation to the Gulf and who may be depended upon to watch closely the commercial interests of the city at the coming convention. To the list presented should be added the names of those appointed by the Governor to represent the State. The entire list comprises about sixty names. It is thought that fully one-half of those who have been selected will attend. Efforts are being made by Senator Armstrong to secure transportation free to Kansas City and return. It is the intention of the delegation to leave here Sunday night.

The list so far made up and approved by Mayor Noonan is as follows: C. P. Walbridge, Henry Alt, Seth W. Cobb, Isaac M. Mason, H. A. Blossom, J. G. Prather, D. H. Armstrong, Robert E. McMath, M. McEnnis, Geo. D. Reynolds, Jno. M. Gilkeson, Wm. A. Hobbs, C. C. Rainwater, D. M. Houser, Wm. Druhe, Emil Pretorious, M. Bernheimer, Milton McRae, John H. Douglas, L. D. Kingsland, C. F. Orthwein, Anthony Itner, Sid R. Francis, J. W. McCullagh, A. S. Aloe, Benjamin F. Hammett, Jas. O. Broadhead, Socrates Newman, Frank X. McCabe, John J. O'Neill, H. M. Pollard, Dan Able, Giles F. Filley, M. A. Wolff, M. J. Murphy, Jerry Fruin, John B. O'Meara, Daniel Kerwin, Chas. Anderson, Christ Von der Ahe, W. E. Barns, Robert A. Campbell.

A Fatal Quarrel.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 27.—Wm. J. Collins and James Cosgrove, teamsters, quarreled last night over their work. Cosgrove called Collins a liar, when the latter drew a revolver and shot Cosgrove dead. Collins subsequently surrendered to the police and was locked up. A queer feature of the case is that Cosgrove's body shows two bullet wounds. Collins says he fired but one shot, only one chamber of his revolver was empty and persons in the vicinity heard but one report. James Ryan, the only eye witness of the tragedy, has disappeared.

TWO THOUSAND CASES

THE NUMBER ON THE CIRCUIT COURT DOCKET FOR THE OCTOBER TERM.

Over Ten Thousand Persons Interested Directly in the Proceedings of the Coming Term—Quick Work of the Judges in Keeping Pace With the Docket—The Slow-Going Supreme Court.

TWO thousand one hundred and twenty-five cases are on the docket of the Circuit Court for trial at the coming October term, which opens October 7, the first Monday in the month. Of these, 300 cases have been pending in the court prior to 1887, and a few of them as far back as 1879. Litigation is still on the increase, and at the opening of the October term of 1890 the number will probably be swelled several hundred. The question will naturally be asked: "Are all these cases going to be decided this term?" They certainly will not. Of these 2,125 cases only 680 were filed for this term, leaving 1,445 cases continued and carried over from all previous terms and years. This would indicate that the court was continually falling behind the docket, but it is not so. It often happens that one court soon disposes of many more cases than falls to its share and metes out justice and satisfaction to all parties at a marvelous rate.

Auguste L. Priest, Chief Deputy Clerk in the Circuit Clerk's office, speaking of the docket and to-day, said:

"Litigation is increasing but very little, as the number of cases filed this term, always the largest of the year, will show when compared to previous October terms. The court is keeping up with the docket and the Judges are working very hard to remain so. The most cases continued are land and ejectment suits, which will abide by the decision of the Supreme Court and other courts where similar cases are pending. Some of these long-continued cases are very old, as you may see from their numbers, some of which are in 30,000, while we are now in 80,000. The judges are prepared to do a heavy business this winter and will rush through the docket with the usual haste and satisfaction."

Some divisions of the court were more lucky than others in getting cases assigned them where a great amount of testimony was not heard or where juries were required. A single jury case may take up an entire week, delaying the docket the meanwhile. Another room may be so fortunate as not to have jury cases, and the docket can be kept up with. This occurred in a marked manner this year, until one court-room was one hundred or more cases behind another, and at a general term of the court, a few months ago, the Judges made the following order:

"In order

as near as may be, the number of causes proceeding in the several special term rooms of this court it is ordered that at the time for the regular assignment of causes to the October term, 1889, the clerk shall in the order in which the same were filed first assign 134 cases to court-room No. 1, 50 cases to court-room No. 2, no cases to court-room No. 3, 98 cases to court-room No. 4 and 330 cases to court-room No. 5, and then he shall assign the cases remaining unassigned according to the rule of Court now in force."

In alloting cases to the various rooms a wheel is used similar to that of the Jury Commissioner in selecting names for jury service. The first case filed is taken and the wheel is given a turn. A number from 1 to 5 is drawn out and the case is given to the court-room of that number. The clerk then marks the docket to the end, giving each court-room a case in turn, regardless of the character of the case, or whether there are similar cases on the docket to be decided which could be decided by the one decision.

Figuring on how many persons are interested in the action of the Circuit Court the number is astonishing. Averaging five persons every case, the two principals, the two attorneys and one witness, the total number would be 10,625. Dividing the cases among the attorneys in the city, about eight hundred, this would give each lawyer only five cases for this term, and this would not be enough to make a living on.

As much can not be said for

judges as has been said here for the Circuit judges. The Supreme Court is three years behind the docket, and when a case is appealed to that court the attorneys on both sides know they need not look for a decision in it for some time. This state of affairs is taken advantage of by some who use every endeavor to get the case to the Supreme Court and thus keep the litigation going for three years more, during which time the bone of contention cannot be of benefit to either plaintiff or defendant. Realizing how slow the legal machinery was moving in the Supreme Court and thereby clogging the wheels of the lower courts, the last Legislature gave the occupants of the bench a prod by ordering the court to be opened one week earlier at each term. Whether this will be of any benefit remains to be seen.

CRESCO'S BIG BLAZE.

Disastrous Forest Fires in California—Syrup Refinery Destroyed.

CRESCO, Io., September 27.—This city was yesterday visited by a terrible fire that burned all the buildings on both sides of May street north of the Court-house, and J. B. Caward's store. In the evening there will be a musical and literary entertainment at Music Hall. The committee which has had in charge all arrangements for the entertainment is composed of the following gentlemen:

Charles E. Hannauer, Chairman; John D. Neville, Secretary; Patrick Monahan, William P. Hourigan, M. E. Smith, Maurice Malooney, William Pinke. They have worked hard to make it a success, and there is every assurance that they will have reason to feel gratified at the result of their endeavors. A fine programme has been prepared. Gilmore's Band will play several selections. The great leader volunteered to render the Knights this service and his generosity is most heartily appreciated. The programme outside of the selections to be given by Gilmore was prepared by Prof. M. A. Gilsinn, and will undoubtedly prove enjoyable. The entire programme for the occasion was issued this morning and is as follows:

THE PROGRAMME.

2. Chorus—"Gloria," (Military March).... Cimarosa

Between the first and second parts of the programme Rev. Francis V. Nugent, C. M., President of St. Vincent's College, Cape Girardeau, will deliver an address. Father Nugent is quite an orator and is sure to please his audience. His first effort of any note in St. Louis was at the laying of St. Leo's corner stone recently, when he delivered an address on the Catholic Church in the presence of an immense crowd. The Catholic Knights of America were present, having participated in the parade given in honor of the occasion. They were so favorably impressed with his ability as a speaker that they extended him a most cordial invitation to be the orator at the celebration of their tenth anniversary, and he accepted. Father Nugent is quite a young man and is gifted with a voice which will enable everybody, even in such a large place as Music Hall, to hear him distinctly. The Catholic Knights were very anxious to have Archbishop Feehan of Chicago here Sunday, he being the prelate entitled to the credit of their admirable organization. The Archbishop, however, will not be able to come. The following letter has been received from him:

ARCHBISHOP FEEHAN'S LETTER.

Messrs. Monahan, Healy and Neville:

GENTLEMEN—I beg to thank you most sincerely for your invitation to attend the anniversary meeting of the Catholic Knights of America in St. Louis, Sunday evening. I would be more than pleased to accept but for many engagements already made here. Wishing the Catholic Knights of America a continued and abundant success, I remain,

P. A. FEEHAN,
Archbishop of Chicago.

THE SOCIETY'S HISTORY AND OBJECTS.

The Catholic Knights of America are very strong in St. Louis and Music Hall will certainly be packed to the doors at their entertainment Sunday evening. The Knights now number about 2,500 in this city. The standard of the order was first raised in St. Louis ten years ago, when Branch 78 was organized in St. Patrick's Parish. The charter members of the branch were: Rev. James McCaffery, Spiritual Director; J. W. Mertz, R. W. Rooney, F. W. Stephens, J. J. Kane, P. O'Brien, A. R. Rivet, Daniel Guye, Parkinson. Only practical Catholics between the ages of 18 and 55 years are eligible to membership. The amount of insurance at present carried by the order is about $30,000,000, and upwards of $2,500,000 has already been paid on death claims. The total membership in the United States is about twenty thousand, scattered through every State and Territory. The order is highly esteemed by the church. Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Connor, in a letter recently published, states that the day has almost come when every eligible Catholic will deem it advisable, perhaps necessary, to wear the badge of the order. The branch of the order in the country was established twelve years ago at Nashville, Tenn. The objects of the Catholic Knights of America as succinctly set forth in the charter granted by the State of Kentucky in April, 1880, are: "To unite fraternally all practical and acceptable Catholics of every nation, profession or occupation. To give all possible moral and material aid in its power to members by holding instructive meetings and having scientific lectures. To encourage each other in business, assisting its members in obtaining employment. To establish and maintain a benefit fund from which a sum, not to exceed $2,000, shall be paid at the death of each member, to his family, or to be disposed of as he may direct. To establish and maintain a fund for the relief of sick or distressed members, and to establish and maintain a circulating library of useful and instructive books for the use of the association."

The State officers of the society are as follows:

Spiritual Director, Very Rev. P. P. Brady, St. Louis; President, Richard Walsh, St. Louis; Vice-President, John T. Lysaght, St. Joseph; Secretary, Jas. Healy, St. Louis; Treasurer, Casper Ehrhard, St. Charles; Trustees—H. B. Alber, Florissant; Chas. Wehner, St. Louis; M. M. Lally, Kansas City.

4-PLY Linen Collars, 5c; cuffs, 10c. To-morrow. GLOBE, 705 to 713 Franklin avenue.

A SAD TRAGEDY.

Handsome Alice Wetzell Commits Suicide to Escape Disgrace.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., September 27.—Miss Alice Wetzell, a handsome young woman of Herndon, Pa., was found dead in the cabin of an old hag named Gottshall yesterday morning at Purdytown, a village between here and Sunbury. The discovery was made by two school girls entering to have their fortunes told. The fortune teller was away and an examination showed that the hanging of the cabin door had been forced. A post-mortem examination revealed a quantity of arsenic in Miss Wetzell's stomach and the fact that in two months she would have become a mother. Gossip has connected her name with that of a prominent married society man in Sunbury. Miss Wetzell attended a boarding school in Chicago for five years. Her father was a wealthy man, but plain and practical, and life was too slow in her country home when she returned. She had been employed as a typewriter in Sunbury until a month ago when she disappeared.

Golden Rod Is Chosen by a Large Vote as the National Flower—Grand Success of Legion of Honor Night—A Series of Technical Concerts—Gilmore Presented With an L. of H. Badge.

GOLDEN ROD won, and if St. Louis' wishes are concerned it will be known hereafter as the national flower. The result of the vote was made known last night and it was received with applause so enthusiastic that nearly everyone was surprised. No one imagined that the national flower was a matter of so much interest, but the announcement of the result of a political election could not have had more effect upon an audience than this did. The total number of votes cast was 21,213. Director Boyd read the result from the stage and when he said that the Golden Rod led with 6,347 votes the audience fairly shouted. The sun-flower came next with 4,743, and the rose, that everyone was thought to love, withered in the ballot box. It only received 3,241 votes. The next highest was the daisy, with 1,342; then the violet, with 951; the pansy, 842; lily, 741; tube rose, 643; pink, 556; morning glory, 451. The rest were scattering. They roamed over the whole fertile field and hardly a flower that grows in America was left entirely without recognition. The Exposition managers, since the matter is practically settled, propose to have what might be called a Golden Rod Night. As soon as arragements can be made with the florists they will procure sufficient quantities of the flower to decorate the stage in Music Hall with it and drape the booths with wreaths made of it.

This is Sunday-school day and thousands who visit the Exposition will depend upon the little children for their entertainment this evening. Twelve hundred little ones will give two concerts and sing the simple songs, while Gilmore's great band accompanies them. There is nothing that can equal in grandeur or sweetness the effect of such music. All that the great composers have written, great though it be, fails to accomplish music's mission and touch the heart as this does. It is not classic, but it is musical and there is soul and feeling in it that awakens sympathy. The chorus will be led by Mr. L. F. Lindsey, who has trained the children and directed several previous concerts of a similar kind. The evening concert will begin at 7:30 o'clock and end at 8:30 o'clock. Gilmore has agreed to change his hours and his regular concert will begin to-night at 9:15.

Legion of Honor night was a grand success. Mr. Frank M. Estes, the Supreme Chancellor, was met in the Secretary's office by a committee composed of 150 members of the Legion and escorted to the stage, and after the overture he delivered a short and interesting address, in which he spoke of the Legion and its work. Mr. Wayman McCreery sang "Non e Ver," and his sweet, clear tenor easily filled the great hall. Gilmore's Band accompanied him and he scored the success of the evening. Mr. S. A. Abeles recited "The Madman and the Razor" in excellent style, and Mr. Henry E. Graffman sang a barytone solo. The Alpha Council Quartette, composed of Messrs. Jesse Cozzens, Emil A. Becker, S. R. Yost and Jesse Cornelius sang "Absence," and were encored. Mr. Henry Wittenberg gave several impersonations which were warmly received and the programme closed with the singing of the "Legion Choral," by the members in the audience.

Gilmore has in preparation a series of programmes which will be not only exceedingly interesting but valuable to those who are not familiar with the technology of music. He proposes to give concerts in which music of only a single character will be played, so that the uninitiated may learn to know and recognize the different styles. The first will be purely classical and only that music which is technically known as classic will be played. Numbers, encores and all will be classic. What the character of the second concert will be he has not yet announced.

Mr. Ben C. Bent, the premier cornettist of Gilmore's Band, has had more complimentary notices written of his marvelous music than almost any other artist of this kind in America. The press has readily yielded approbation of his superb tone, the fine artistic quality of each individual note, and the magnetic rendering of all together in one of his famous song solos. He can read music with as much ease as a bird finds song, and the soulful music of each selection is what has won his popularity. Bent is especially fond of the St. Louis audiences, and they do not get nearly enough of his solos to please them. Aside from the fame acquired in his art, Mr. Bent has amassed quite a large fortune and has a beautiful home in New York City. He intends also to build a country residence in that State.

The programme of the Sunday-school concert and Gilmore's evening concert is as follows:

NOTES.

When an entertainment is put into the hands of the Legion of Honor it is sure to be a success.

Mayor Noonan presented Prof. Gilmore with a Legion of Honor badge last night, and graced the gift with a well-timed speech.

When Mr. Jesse Cornelius advanced to the footlights to lead the Legion choral, Gilmore bowed and handed him his baton. There are not many men to whom Gilmore has yielded his baton.

President Kennard was so sick yesterday that he could not visit the Exposition at all. Only serious illness could keep him away, but all the Exposition visitors hope to see him out to-night.

The electrical display will be permanent. It has been such a success that next year it will be repeated and extended. As all improvements up to date are shown there now, so all made before the next Exposition will be exhibited.

SAILED UNDER ANOTHER FLAG.

The Peculiar Case of the Coasting Steamer, Capt. John.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, September 27.—The coasting steamer Capt. John, which recently carried the Mexican flag and bore the more euphonious name of Eureka, is lying near half full of water at the middle pier of the Atlantic Basin, Brooklyn, in charge of Inspector of Customs, Wm. J. Dillen. She was seized by the Government yesterday for gross violation of the navigation laws and is liable to forfeiture. The seizure was made under instructions from Special Deputy Collector McClelland, acting for Collector Erhardt, and all the papers in the case have been sent to United States District Attorney Jesse Johnson in Brooklyn, with a request that he begin proceedings for the forfeiture of the vessel, cargo and furniture. The case is a peculiar one, and is declared by old custom-house officials to have had no parallel in this city. Smith & Lockwood, custom-house brokers, presented to Deputy Collector Jones of the Navigation division, on September 14, what purported to be an outward manifesto of the Mexican steamship Eureka and asked for clearance papers for Vera Cruz, representing that she had been entered "coastwise" at this port. Two days later one of the firm asked to have the clearance canceled as the Eureka's voyage had been abandoned. It came out subsequently that in order to procure a tonnage certificate from the Surveyor a certificate of the Mexican Chancellor, dated September 11, was filed, setting forth that the Eureka, formerly the American steamer Capt. John, was now under the Mexican flag, but on September 18 a notification came to the Surveyor, from the Mexican Consul showing that the sale of the vessel had not been consummated and that her assumption of the Mexican flag was not authorized by that Government. Strangely enough, both of these certificates, which were addressed to the Collector, found their way to the Surveyor's office, but never were filed in the naval office, where they rightfully belonged. Thus the naval officer had no knowledge that an American vessel had changed her nationality. The Eureka, or the Capt. John, as she ought to be called, sailed for Vera Cruz on September 16. Her commander was Capt. Bais, a Mexican, and her machinery was in charge of Engineer Davis, formerly of the Haytien gunboat Belize. She got as far as Barnegat, when she sprang a leak and was forced to put back to Brooklyn. The Custom-house officials say that when she sailed she had the name Eureka painted on her stern and her pilot-house, but that when she reappeared in New York harbor, pretty nearly half full of water, the Eureka was erased and she was once more plain Capt. John. According to Deputy Collector McClelland the penalties prescribed for violations of the navigation laws such as the owners of the Capt. John seem to have been guilty of are very severe. Thus the changing of the name of a vessel without the permission of the Secretary of the Treasury and the failure to report the sale of a vessel to a foreigner are punishable by forfeiture. Trading, after being sold to a foreigner and sailing under a foreign flag or under command of an alien without exchanging documents for register, also make a vessel liable to seizure and forfeiture.

A BRUTAL FIGHT.

Editor Angus McIntyre Bites Off Christopher Madden's Lip.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, September 27.—Editor Angus P. McIntyre of the Long Island City Tribune was in a very precarious condition last night. His face and head were so badly bruised and battered that he is almost unrecognizable. He is confined to his bed also, suffering the pain of a much kicked body and broken ankle. Christopher Madden, a truckman, is responsible for McIntyre's condition. Madden is disfigured for life. He charges McIntyre with biting off the lower part of his lip early yesterday morning in a saloon on Borden avenue. From what can be learned it appears that McIntyre went into the saloon and almost immediately got into a row with Madden. They clinched and scuffled about the floor and then fell. Madden cried out that his lip had been bitten, and the spectators were horrified to find a quivering piece of flesh as big as a half dollar coin lying in the sawdust. Madden managed to regain his feet, and began kicking McIntyre, and before he was dragged away the man was bleeding in a dozen places and insensible. Madden was taken to Dr. Burnett's office, where an effort was made to sew the piece of lip in place, but it was impossible. To prevent Madden's death from loss of blood, the lacerated edges of the wound were brought together and sewed. McIntyre was taken home. His physician has a fear that he will not recover.

MRS. JAMES G. BLAINE, JR.

The Lady Removed in an Ambulance to Private Apartments.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, September 27.—Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., was removed last evening from the residence of Dr. Charles A. Doremus, No. 92 Lexington avenue, to the Percival Apartment House, No. 228 West Forty-second street. She was suffering from inflammatory rheumatism so badly that she had to be put under the influence of chloroform before she could be moved. Her mother and sister were present when Dr. Lockwood and Dr. Scudder administered the chloroform. An ambulance from the New York Hospital was summoned after dark. Mrs. Blaine was borne down the stairs on the stretcher to the sidewalk, where it was raining, and was slid, still insensible, into the ambulance. While the ambulance was in front of the door a crowd assembled and looked on curiously while Mrs. Blaine was put on board. The ambulance was driven to the Percival Apartment House, where Mrs. Blaine was received by her father and mother, Col. and Mrs. Nevins. Late last night Mrs. Blaine recovered from the influence of chloroform. Mrs. Blaine, Jr., has been impatient since she has been in Dr. Doremus' house to be removed to apartments of her own. Neither Dr. Doremus nor Mrs. Doremus, however, has been impatient to have her removed. Mrs. Blaine will remain in town until she is completely recovered.

RICHMOND, Va., September 27.—Gov. Lee's respite to Simon Walker, the negro boy sentenced to death in Chesterfield County for assault on a girl 12 years old, expires to-day, and the execution will take place, as it is believed the Executive will not interfere further. Walker's father was at the Westerfield Jail to ask Jailer Cheatham for the body, but the Jailer informed him that under the new code the body will go to the medical college at Richmond if the authorities of that institution wish. He had notified the college, and he understood that the college surgeon would be on hand to receive the corpse, but one of the college faculty said that if the father of the condemned was really desirous of burying the body consent would be given, as the college had at this time a large stock of bodies in its vault, accumulated during the summer vacation.

Mrs. Ros. Sabine

Wishes to call the attention of the public to her justly celebrated charms, the preparation and application of which have been a secret in her family for ages past. There is no doubt as to their power to secure to the owner of one of them the greatest success in all enterprises of life, and to protect him from all accidents, misfortune and evil influence, as well as from loss of property and health. Their mesmeric power and influence secures you friends among strangers and turns hatred and ill-will into esteem and love. The most powerful of all charms, however, is Mrs. Sabine's

MAGIC BELT,

The Original and Only Genuine Made.

Containing within itself the virtues of all other single charms combined. The great Napoleon I. received one of the belts from the world-renowned Mme. Lenormand, the great-grandmother of Mrs. Sabine, and he himself believed that this belt was the secret and cause of his phenomenal success. Just before his fall he lost it, and disaster and misfortune followed.

Mrs. Sabine wishes to state that, in order to protect the public against imitations, all charms bear her signature, the fac-simile of which is presented below:

MONEY.

NEW YORK, September 27, 11 a. m.—The stock market opened with a spurt of activity this morning and a large business was done in the active list, among which Missouri Pacific, Erie, Union Pacific and Western Union were most conspicuous. First prices were higher and the advances over last evening's figures extended to ½ per cent among the active stocks. The strength in the early dealings was most pronounced and material improvement was made all over the list, Missouri Pacific taking the lead and opening at 75¼. It rose to 76⅛, a net advance of 1⅛ from its last night's price. C., C., C. & St. Louis rose 1⅛ to 74⅞. Lackawanna, 1, and others large fractions. Manhattan continued its yesterday's advance and reached 101, a net gain of 2½ per cent. Sugar was still weak and opening down 1 per cent at 95 it fell away to 93⅛, a loss of 2⅞ per cent, and after recovering to 94 again declined in the latter portion of the hour. The other trusts were dull and steady. Pullman displayed marked strength on light dealings, rising 2½ to 185½. The market was more quiet at the end of the hour and still strong at the best prices reached.

Noon—Money is easy at 6 per cent. Bar silver, 93⅛. The stock market continued active and strong after 11 o'clock, but the further advances in the active stocks were confined to slight fractions and the improvements were only among the inactive shares, of which Michigan Central rose 1⅛ to 93⅞ and Manhattan to 102. Sugar made further progress in the downward direction and retired to 90, but seemed to have no influence whatever upon the stocks of the regular list. Some recession was had later in the hour, but the changes in quotations were small and insignificant. At noon the market was still fairly active and firm at close to the best prices of the morning.

2:30 p. m.—The feature of the stock market to-day has been Sugar Trust certificates and Atchison. Upon rumors of more water, Sugar Trust opened off at 95, against 96, which was the closing price last night. Heavy selling orders began to come in, and in a short time the price had declined to 88, but later is rallied to 90. The attack on Atchison was begun by the circulation of a rumor that that road was cutting rates in a very lively manner in the Southwest. When the story was contradicted, a report was started that the road would default on its October interest. These rumors caused a break from 38⅞ to 34¾. Later it recovered a portion of the loss, and is now 35⅜. The whole market declined small fractions in sympathy.

3 p. m.—The stock market was comparatively quiet after 2:30, and while the general drift of prices was upward little progress was made, and Atchison yielded fractionally again. Manitoba was the special feature of the market, developing marked strength and rising from 114¼ to 117. The close was quite steady at fractional declines from first prices in most cases. Atchison closed at 35½ and Sugar Trust at 89¼.

Inside Information.

A highly nervous and excited market, presaging what?

It appears to be a mere matter of guess just now in wheat.

Country houses report that in the past couple of days purchases of more wheat to come here have been made by them than in many weeks past.

Dornbusch estimates that Europe will require to import during this crop year the equivalent of 232,-000,000 bu wheat.

No. 2 red wheat is too high for export from this market, but 20,085 bu No. 2 hard was loaded out yesterday for export via the barges.

A report that twenty loads wheat had been worked in Baltimore for export was received with incredulity by parties in the export trade here. They say that when our wheat was 6c lower than it is now we were too high by several cents to export any, and since our advance of 6c European markets have not gone up more than 3c.

The Chicago Board of Trade has posted a proposition to abolish the rules relating to rates of commission to be charged non-members of the board, and also the penalty for cutting commissions, which is now a year's suspension for the first offense, and expulsion for the second. After being passed upon by the Board of Directors, the proposition will be offered for acceptance or rejection.

New York to Small & Rasin: Liverpool white wheat ½d dearer; demand good and holders firmer in their views. Second cable ½d dearer; good inquiry and few sellers. To Green: Cables wheat firmer in sympathy with American markets; white wheat in Liverpool advancing; corn quiet.

Later advices from Bombay state that "the report from all the districts is good regarding the growing crops. Cawnpore wants rain and so do Bhownugger, Bellary and Hubli. Julgaum and Broach ask for fine weather. The rainfall now is chiefly showers, but certain portions of the Central Provinces and Rajputana have received liberal rain during the past week. There is really no very special news to report regarding the position of exports and imports in Bombay. Supplies are small comparatively, and this year's figures as regards wheat are very striking compared with last year; 177,000 tons in eight months is a serious falling off in receipts. The shipments show a fall of 142,000 tons in the same time."

Maize is the most important crop in Rumania, inasmuch as it forms the basis of the food of the rural population as well as being one of the principal articles of export. This year the crop is exceedingly small, it having suffered much from drought. Stocks in shipping ports are light, but there remains a considerable quantity in the interior. In the year 1888 the export to the United Kingdom amounted to 14,287,000 bu, against 22,131,000 in 1887. The total imports of maize into the United Kingdom from all countries for the year 1888 was 50,677,000 bu. and for 1887 62,246,000 bu. From the above statement it will be seen how important a part Roumania ordinarily takes in furnishing the United Kingdom with maize.

The absence of a prominent trader from the pit was greatly remarked upon to-day. While wheat was plunging downward at one time this morning Trooper Tom Francis was overheard to exclaim: "And where was Oswald, then? One blast upon his bugle horn was worth 10,000 men!"

St. Louis Markets.

REGULAR SESSION, CLOSING 1:15 P. M.

Wheat—Nearly every telegram this morning from the head center of speculation—Chicago—was bearish and predicted a break, and they found in the local crowd quite a number of erstwhile bulls who were inclined to look for a tumble. The aspect of foreign affairs was strong, with ½d advance in Californians, and this was followed by a further betterment of ½d in second cables, but the absence of foreign buying on this side was as marked as ever, and export clearances were less than 4,000 bu. An increase in receipts here and at Duluth, with reports that the movement to market in the Northwest was increasing, and statements that the country was selling wheat with more freedom to come here, added to the already rather bearish feeling here, and many traders were primed to sell at the opening. However, there were quite a number of the faithful ready to contest the field with sellers, and for some time after the opening the battle between buyers and sellers raged fiercely. On Chicago's early break December sold off here to 82c, but a sudden, sharp upward whirl in the Windy City on the alleged Baltimore exports sent the local bulls in hot foot to buy, and they jumped the price to 82⅞c in short order. This was the last struggle of the bulls, all the outside markets gradually sinking, no fresh ammunition turning up to help them, and plenty of long wheat coming out for sale. The close saw December at 81⅛c, which was the low point for the day, and 1c below yesterday. The spot market was strong. Grade No. 2 red was taken by Francis at 81½c for regular. Millers bought No. 3 red at an advance, paying 76½@76¾c for E. side and 78c for St. L. and C. No. 4 sold at 68⅛c E. side and 68c bid for St. L. and C. Rejected, 60c bid for A.; no grade offered at 55c and 53c bid for A.; No. 2 hard at 73c and 71c bid for St. L.

Corn acted very much as it did yesterday, most of the early trading being at slight advances, but the offerings excessive and demand only moderate. The close was weak. October sold at 29⅝@⅞c, and was offered at that late; December at 28½@⅝c to 28⅜c; January at 28½c to 28⅜c, and May at 30½@⅝c to 30⅜c. At close there were sellers at the top rates. Spot grades were quiet and showed little change. Exporters brought regular No. 2 at 29⅜c; No. 3 sold this and E. side at 29c and later 29⅛c was bid for E. side; No. 4 this and E. side salable at 28c; No. 2 white sold in St. L. at 31⅛c, but offered regular at 31c; No. 3 do had 29c bid for St. L.; no grade, 25c bid.

Oats—Futures were stronger and October sold at 18⅛c, while for May 22⅞@⅞c was bid. Spot grades were firm and the moderate offerings met with ready sale: No. 2 at 17⅞c regular and for St. L. and M. 17⅞ bid; No. 3 at 17@17⅛c in St. L.; No. 3 white this side salable at 18c; no grade at 15c E. side and 15½ in U. Samples strong and in demand. No grade sold at 15c; No. 3 at 17@19½c; Northern mixed at 20@21c; No. 3 color at 19@20c; No. 3 white at 20@23c; No. 1 do at 23½c.

Rye was firm, but the small offerings restricted business. Grade No. 2 sold E. side at 38½c, and for regular 38c was bid; No. 3 salable in St. L. at 36c.

Flour firm, but the prices asked continue to hold buyers off and business small. We quote: XXX, $2.30@2.40; family, $2.60@2.70; choice, $2.85@3.00; fancy, $3.60@3.70; extra fancy, $3.85@3.95; patents, $4.25@4.35. prices for lots at depot and on levee this side.

Cornmeal at $1.70@1.75, and pearl meal, grits and hominy at $2.25@2.30.

Rye flour steady at $2.75@2.80 per bbl delivered.

Bran strong and in good demand. Bulk at E. side points, 35½@37c; sacked on levee, 46½c and f. o. b., 47c E. side and 47½c this side.

Hay was unchanged. There was a fair demand for desirable grades of both prairie and timothy and market strong; low and medium grades were over-plenty, dull and weak. Sales ranged: On west track—Prairie, prime to fancy Kansas, $7.50@8 to $8.50@9; mixed timothy, common, $5@6; prime to choice, $8@9; timothy, prime to strictly prime, $9@10.50; choice to strictly choice, $11@11.50 to $12; fancy, $12.50@13; gilt edge, $13.50@14.

Provisions were weaker, and the demand was slack, a decline in Chicago holding buyers off. The only offerings of up-country stock to arrive were dry salt extra shorts at 5.35c. and f. here. Loose dry salt of shipping age sold f. o. b. for cash: shoulders 4¼c; longs and c'ribs, 5⅛c; shorts, 5.45c; boxed shoulders, 4½c; longs and c'ribs, 5⅝c; shorts, 5⅝c. Packed bacon—shoulders, 5c; longs and c'ribs 6.10c; shorts, 6.20c. Standard mess pork offered at $11.62½. Prime steam lard, 5.80c this and 5.85c East side; fancy leaf, 7½c; second brand, 7¼c; country, 5@5¼c for irregular lots manufacturing to prime. Sugar-cured hams, 11¼@13¼c; breakfast bacon, 9@10¼c. Beef—Family, $6.50@10 ₽ bbl; on orders higher, $4@5.50 ₽ half-bbl; dried, 9@10c; selected, 12c ₽ lb; tongues, $4@5 ₽ dozen. Salt—Domestic, 85@90c ₽ bbl on E., 90@95c on this side. Ground alum, $1.10@1.15 ₽ 1-lb sack; small way higher.

Highwines unchanged at $1.02 in St. Louis, Cincinnati and Chicago; $1.03 in Peoria.

Lead weak, 100 tons common selling for October at $3.72½. Spot chemical hard was offered at $3.70 this side and $3.72½ East side.

FILLING LOW PLACES.

RAISING VALUABLE WEST END RESIDENCE PROPERTY UP TO GRADE.

Majority of the Stock Subscribed for an Electric Road Out the Olive Street Road and South Over Goodfellow Avenue to Forest Park—Realty Sales of the Day.

THE success attending the improvement of numerous tracts in the West End has inspired the owners of large parcels of low grade ground to unite in an effort for the reclamation of the property after a plan which will make it as desirable as the many handsomely improved residence sites which have recently been built upon west of Grand.

There are large tracts of land below grade on Laclede, Pine, Lindell and McPherson, between Vandeventer avenue and Sarah street, and the full improvement of Vandeventer, from the Mill Creek Valley to the far northern part of the city, giving access to the cable lines, is looked upon as an additional guarantee that these lots will enhance rapidly in value, and especially if they are filled to the proper elevation at once.

Capitalists' attention has already been favorably attracted to these low grounds on account of the very moderate prices at which they are valued, and it is not improbable that the sale of very large tracts will be recorded before long at figures which will assure the purchasers good profits. Negotiations in that direction are now pending. Some owners and prospective buyers have proposed a plan of united action for the general good, and it will be carried out if unanimity can be secured.

A NEW ELECTRIC ROAD.

The outlook for the building up of the West End was never more favorable than at the present time. One of the most recent indications of progress in the favored territory is the action of property owners on both sides of Olive street, between Taylor and Hamilton avenues. They have already taken steps to secure the building of an electric railway, to connect with either the Washington avenue or Olive street line at Taylor avenue and to be extended out Olive street to Goodfellow avenue, and thence south to Forest Park with a terminus at about the center of the race course.

Gentlemen who are taking much inetrest in this matter are Joseph E. McGinnis, owner of Clemens place, Frank Obear, Calvin Collins, owner of Hamilton Place, and Daniel Cattlin, who bought the Forsythe tract about two years ago, land which he is now having improved at a great outlay of money. These parties have already held several meetings for the purpose of providing for the building of the road and are very much encouraged with the outlook. They have had surveys made and an estimated cost of the construction computed by a competent engineer, and Mr. McGinnis says enough stock has been subscribed to insure the building of the line. Running through one of the handsomest parts of the West End, it will doubtless be a very popular route if built, a question as to which there seems to be no doubt, a special point in its favor being its western terminus, near the central line of the park, from which place any section of the pleasure resort may be easily and readily reached.

CLEMENS PLACE SALES.

This and other prospective improvements have stimulated the purchase of a good deal of property adjacent to the proposed route. Probably the greatest activity has been in the sale of Clemens place lots, an addition to which is now being provided with a granolithic imitation of stone walks and street crossings of the same material. In this new residence spot Mr. McGinnis reports the following recent sales to the parties named:

George Corwin—Lot No. 2, 60x185 feet, on the south line of Clemens avenue, the second lot east of Clara, and to Wm. H. Fay, the adjoining 60 feet on the east.

W. Leftwich—Lot 8, being 60x185 feet on the north side of Clemens avenue, about 180 feet east of Clara.

Louis Hagey—Lot No. 37, 60x185 feet, situate on the south line of Clemens avenue, 185 feet west of Clara.

Alfred Miles—60x185 feet on the north line of Clemens avenue, lot No. 6, situated 315 feet west of Clara.

Mrs. John Poe—Lots 57 and 58, being 120 feet front by a depth of 157 on the north side of Cates avenue.

Llewellyn Morsell—Lot No. 36, on the north side of Cates avenue, 250 feet west of Clara.

Louis Silva—Lot No. 37, situate 180 feet west of Clara on the south side of Cates avenue, all of which were purchased at $20 a foot.

Jno Eno—75 feet of ground at the northwest corner of Clara and Cates at $30 a foot.

Mrs. Edward M. Reed—70 feet at the southeast corner of Goodfellow and Cates at $29 a foot.

Of these purchasers Messrs. Corwin, Hagey, Miles and Leftwich are now building homes upon their lots, and each of the others have bought with the intention of erecting residences.

MISCELLANEOUS SALES.

Bradley & Quinette report the sale of the stone front, six-room dwelling and 20x120 foot lot at No. 4813 Cote Brilliante avenue, to Mary McTigue, who is going to make the place her home. Nis Lauenborg was the grantor, the consideration being $2,500.

Chas. C. Nicholls sold a 60x180 tract of ground in Aubert place at $20 a foot, situated on Walton avenue near Delmar. The purchaser of this property intends improving it with two brick dwellings.

A FALL AUCTION.

On Tuesday next, commencing at 3 o'clock on the premises, Lanham & Sutton will offer at public sale twenty residence lots in that progressive new home territory in the vacinity of the Bingham avenue crossing of the Oak Hill & Carondelet Railway, where a great many lots were sold last spring at very low prices.

THE STOCK MARKETS.

A Bear Campaign—The Vanderbilts—An Atchison Rumor.

To-day was one for the bears, and they made full use of it. Outside of this there was but little news of any interest, though all the predictions were to the contrary of the market. The information of the situation was received over the private wire of Gaylord, Blessing & Co.

From New York: "It is rumored on the board that the Atchison reorganization contemplates an assessment of 20 per cent on the stock. This is absolutely denied, however, by Kidder, Peabody & Co. We understand H. Chauncey and Wallace are large sellers of the stock.

This settles the purchase of the United, as yesterday's POST-DISPATCH said it would. It was expected, however, that the entire purchase price would be paid. It also assures Hollins & Co. of a practical control of the lighting business in St. Louis.

From New York: All of the Vanderbilt executive officers are in town to attend the regular monthly meeting of these lines to-day. Ledyard of the Michigan Central and Hayden of the New York Central are at the Windsor. The latter said the business of his road, as well as that of all the other Vanderbilts, was simply magnificent. The only troubles that he knew of were among the Northwestern grangers, and the silly managers who were personally much to blame for the troubles which exist, should be given permanent leaves of absence by their companies. The New York Central people will declare a quarterly dividend, and some people are very hopeful of something extra about Christmas. The annual report of the year, estimating two weeks' business this month, down to the 30th, has been made up for private circulation, and was cabled this week over to Julius Morgan & Co. for the information of Britishers, who own about all of the capital stock outside of what is owned by the Vanderbilts here.

From New York: The strong bullish feeling is not all among professionals. The dry goods people are taking an interest afresh in stocks and coming in to buy. They made a lot of money on Louisville & Nashville and Tennessee Coal lately, and are generally looking for something to buy. The favorite bull card was Union Pacific. It was promised a rise. It is said that Connor and Morisini bought Western Union up yesterday, and some of the buying of Union Pacific was attributed to the Standard Oil people, who have always been large holders of these stocks.

Wall street gossip received by Kohn & Co.: The talk among brokers at the Windsor last night was unmistakably bullish. All the large operators agreed that the general buying of the market yesterday was of the very best description. The distribution of business was such as to give the utmost confidence to believers in higher prices. It was suggested that the timid bulls who do not get aboard now will regret their temerity, particularly as it is known that Mr. Jay Gould is the power behind the throne and that he has been the strongest buyer, not only of his own stocks, but also of specialties which are likely to be benefited by consolidation or working arrangements with other roads. As a general thing, the market, which shows considerable strength during the first four days of the week, culminates on Friday, and traders who like to discount the bank statement get out of their stocks if they imagine there will be a loss in reserves. The professionals, true to their peculiarities, last night predicted quite an appreciable reaction some time during the session to-day, but shrewd operators take very little stock in these forecasts. The Chicago contingent has been buying the grangers quite extensively from all accounts, and St. Paul will cross 80 in very quick order. The continued increase in the company's business removes all doubt, the enthusiasts declare, of the spring dividend. The big movement in St. Paul will come from London, and the people who started the advance in Louisville & Nashville and then took hold of Union Pacific will be largely interested in St. Paul.

CARONDELET JOTTINGS.

The Fiftieth Anniversary of a Wedding Celebrated—Notes.

Mr. James Armstrong and Miss Nellie Dauphan were quietly wedded last evening.

Alice Wright, residing on South Minnesota avenue, was bitten on the left arm by a dog this morning. The wound is not serious.

The negroes, who were arrested by the police Wednesday evening for dancing in a vacant house in Zinc Row, were given a hearing before Magistrate James Meegan this morning. They were fined costs, but the execution was stayed.

The German citizens of this section of the city and of South St. Louis County will hold a mass meeting to-night at Turner Hall to make arrangements for the parade on German Day.

The fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Paupeney was celebrated last evening at their residence on Broadway and Sopher street. The couple is one of the oldest residing here, and are enjoying good health in spite of having reached the 70th mile stone. There were four generations of the family present.

On account of increasing business Capt. N. H. Grapevine will hereafter run both transfer boats. Nearly 100 cars of coal are on the east side of the river awaiting transportation.

Prizes to the amount of $1,000 have been donated by Messrs. Herman Knorr, M. C. Starkloff, A. and P. Frank, B. Lowenstein, Frank Jackson, H. Nagel, Louis Schrempp, Daniel Paule, B. O'Reilly and numerous other gentlemen for the shooting tournament which will take place next Sunday at the grounds of the Carondelet Gun Club.

Wednesday was pay-day at the Barracks, and the blue coats were compelled to wait until Thursday before they could go to the city to spend their money. A recruit stated last evening that since the POST-DISPATCH's expose of the Barracks and of the post-trader's store very few of the soldiers spend their money in the Barracks.

Herbert Jackson, aged 9 years, fell from a stepladder upon which he was standing, whitewashing a fence in the rear of his parents yard about 10:30 o'clock this morning, receiving an ugly wound on the back of his head.

The Wreck of the Humphreys.

Pilot Hammond has made a careful sounding of the wreck of the Humphreys, located at the foot of Fort Chartres Tow-head, on which the steamer My Choice was recently sunk, and makes the following report for the benefit of the pilots and the government snag boats:

"There are 3 feet of water on the part of the wreck that stands up, which is a part of the starboard side, and is about 30 feet long. There are 4½ feet on the balance of the wreck. The width of the wreck is about 50 feet, length about 70 feet. I placed two buoys, one on each side of the wreck. There is 5 feet of water close by the wreck on left going down of three barges width, and 7 and 8½ feet to the right of the wreck the width of four barges."

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

Splendid Gold Bearing Quartz Found in the Province of Canton.

PORTLAND, Ore., September 27.—News of the discovery of rich gold bearing quartz in the Province of Canton, China, about one hundred miles from the city of Canton, has been received here by Seid Back, a prominent Chinese merchant. The discovery was made five months ago, when Chinese merchants of the Pacific Coast organized a company with $20,000 capital. Experts from New York who examined the ledge report that the rock assays from $375 to $400 per ton. The ledge is a mile and a half long and thirty feet thick. The Governor of the province, when he heard of the discovery, issued a proclamation against mining. It is the intention of the company to spend $200,000 for machinery in the United States. Americans will be employed to work the mines.

Tyler, chief clerk of Sherman Bros. & Co., who has been arrested as a participant in their grain stealings and is now under bonds, is dying at the general hospital in this city. At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon he was still alive, but the doctors were positive that he could not outlive the night. His family is an excellent one, and the disgrace of his arrest has so preyed on his mind that he has scarcely cared to live. It is very doubtful if he was at all binnable for the firm's rascality.

LAW CAN'T TOUCH HIM.

PATROLMAN VELTON DISGRACES THE NEW YORK POLICE FORCE.

Mrs. Mary Brandt Charges Him With Betraying Her Daughter—A Striking and Intensely Dramatic Scene at the Police Headquarters—Supt. Murray's Indignation—Velton to Go Before the Commissioners.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, September 27.—A striking and intensely dramatic scene was enacted yesterday at police headquarters, when a patrolman's shield was torn from his breast by the indignant Superintendent, who ordered the disgraced officer placed in custody to answer an infamous charge. An elderly woman of stout build called on Supt. Murray Tuesday and informed him that she was Mrs. Mary Brandt, living in West New York, a small, straggling village in New Jersey. Her story was that her daughter Catherine had been enticed to this city and betrayed by Patrolman Chas. A. Velton of the Fifth Precinct. The Superintendent at once detailed Detective Michael O'Sullivan on the case. O'Sullivan found Katie Brandt and Annie M. Young, her companion, at No. 42 Carmine street. Mrs. Brandt visited the Central office again yesterday, accompanied by her husband, William. They were shown into Inspector Williams' room. Just outside the door sat Patrolman Velton in full uniform. A few minutes later Detective O'Sullivan entered with the two young girls. Katie is in her 18th year, Annie being one year older. On seeing her mother, Katie tossed her head saucily and nodded carelessly. The Inspector looked at both girls curiously as he sent a messenger for the Superintendent. When Supt. Murray walked across the marble floor of the corridor there was anger in his eyes. With a nod to a Sergeant standing near Patrolman Velton, he indicated that the latter was to be brought into the Inspector's room. Velton rose leisurely and followed the Sergeant, with a debonair air, as though he considered that a great deal of unnecessary fuss was being made

OVER HIS PECCADILLO.

He was soon undeceived, for a few minutes after a more astonished man did not exist.

"Is this the man who brought you over to New York?" demanded Supt. Murray, turning to Katie Brandt, as she stood near Inspector's Williams' desk.

"Yes, sir; that's him," promptly responded the girl.

"What did he say to you?" was the next question.

"He asked me to come, and I did."

"And he asked you to come here, also?" said the Superintendent, addressing Annie Young.

"Yes, sir."

"Where did you find these girls, O'Sullivan?"

"In a furnished room at No. 42 Carmine street," replied the detective.

"And you girls both recognize this policeman as the man who enticed you to this city?"

"Yes sir."

MURRAY'S INDIGNATION.

The face of the Police Superintendent was a study at that moment. His eyes flashed with indignation, his features grew crimson and there was a stern expression about his lips which showed that he was deeply moved by the charge brought against a member of the force.

"What have you to say to this, Velton," he demanded in cold and cutting tones.

"Nothing much," replied the accused patrolman. "Neither of the girls are of good character, and I——"

"Silence," thundered Supt. Murray. "You are a disgrace to this department. I want that shield you wear as your badge of authority."

As he spoke the chief officer of the Police Department stepped quickly toward Velton, and before the latter divined his intention he seized the metal badge and tore it from the patrolman's coat.

"You are now a prisoner to answer this charge of abduction," said the Superintendent, tossing the shield, which bore the figures "736," on the Inspector's desk. "Take him away to court."

Velton was taken to the Tombs police court, where Judge McMann released him, as he could not entertain the charge of abduction, neither girl claiming to be chaste.

"The patrolman will be given his shield," said the Superintendent, in speaking of the case afterwards. "There being no charge against him I am compelled to restore him to duty, but I am determined to purify this department to the best of my ability, and charges of course will be preferred against Velton before the Board of Commissioners. It will consume two or three weeks to do this; meanwhile the patrolman will be kept on duty."

A suit upon an account of $225, brought by Meagher & Son against Peter Walsh has been transferred on a change of venue from Justice Sheehan to Justice Manning's court.

Sometime last month Wolfort & Co. entered suit before Justice Manning against Teckemeier Bros., liverymen on Leonard avenue, and a horse, buggy and harness were levied upon by the Constable. Mr. A. Prill entered suit by replevin before Justice Hart to get possession of the rig from the Constable. When the trial came off Prill was not present, and the suit went by default. Two more suits were then entered against Teickemeier Bros.—one by a laborer named Clagett for $19, the other by Dr. Farrell, a veterinary surgeon, for $55, and the rig was still held. Prill now files an interplea setting forth his claims to the horse, harness, etc. The suit will be tried on next Tuesday.

Shrewsbury's Souvenir.

The hit of the Exposition yesterday was the Shrewsbury Park Souvenir, a little book full of the most artistic engravings and side-splitting dialogues. If the supply was not exhausted last night visitors to the Exposition will do well to secure one. How the company can afford to give away so beautiful a book excites as much wonder as the beauties of the book itself.

ASSAULTED BY A TRAMP.

The Exciting Experience of a Servant Yesterday Afternoon.

Mary Lewis, a young colored girl, employed as a domestic in the family of ex-Congressman John J. O'Neil, 3703 Garfield avenue, had quite an exciting adventure with a tramp yesterday afternoon. About 3 o'clock a grizzly-bearded old "veteran" appeared at the rear door of the residence and begged for something to eat, insisting that he had never been so hungry in all his life. The accommodating cook at once handed him some cold victuals, which he nibbled while seated on the doorstep. He did not eat like a hungry man should, and the girl becoming frightened locked the door. About ten minutes later she opened it again and ordered the old fellow away. He promised to go if she would give him an apple. As the girl turned to get the fruit the tramp sprang upon her. For several minutes the two struggled about the kitchen, when finally the fastenings of the woman's outer skirt gave way and she fled from the house leaving the dress in the villain's grasp. Sergt. Gillespie of the Fifth District happened to be in the vicinity and at once proceeded to place the tramp under arrest. At the station the fellow gave his name as Henry Clark, 45 years of age. This morning a warrant was sworn out charging Clark with assault and battery, the evidence not being strong enough to hold him on any more serious charge.

STYLES OF FORTY YEARS AGO.

Identified by an Old Beau Among the Very Latest Things in Waistcoats.

"Well, sir, here we are back to 1845," said a portly, jovial old gentleman as he surveyed the versicolored display of silk vests in the show windows of an Olive street haberdasher. "Just where we were in 1845. That very cut and pattern of vest was all the 'go' in Paris, Ky., from 1845 to 1855, and I tell you the tailors or the beaux of Paris of those days bowed to none in matters of taste and dress, as the fashions then prevailed." Then, in reference, the haberdasher bore out the first part of the old beau's statement.

An old style is being revived and rejuvenated. The nobby of the beaux of the forties is coming back under the impression that it is new and original. A young man is not in the fashion now unless his vest is in marked contrast with the rest of his attire. There is no limit put upon the variety or brilliancy of color nor upon the quality or richness of the material used. Green, red, blue, yellow, gold and intermediate shades are very popular, just as they were forty years ago.

Now it is the style to have a suit of clothes built without the vest and to have that piece of the suit made up of different material and with especial care. Such was also the custom forty years ago.

As at one time the tightness of a man's trousers and subsequently the bagginess was his passport into the "Four Hundred," so now is the brilliancy of his vest, and it must be double-breasted, too, with long, broad collar folds and ample space for a necktie, which but narrowly escapes being an exact counterpart of the old-fashioned stock.

The advice of the dressing oracle now is

SPLURGE ON THE VEST.

The rest of the clothes do not count for much as far as fashion goes. A glance at the haberdasher showcases will show the immense run which is expected, and will show the infinite variety of color and pattern. The narrow limits which circumscribe the choice of material for the ordinary outer garments have been broadened out of sight, and silk, satin, velvets and brocades which ordinarily are forbidden the male sex are now permissible. Those who have the good fortune to be able to obtain a vest embroidered profusely by hand in a difficult and rare pattern have an immense lead in the race for style. Yet it is all a repetition of the styles before the war.

"I remember the time when the vest was the thing of beauty," continued the portly gentleman after the regulator of fashions had completed his explanation. "Then a young man would spend as much or more on his vest than he would on all the rest of the suit. I remember well how the boys would go around to the stores where they sold the finest goods that could be obtained. They would take their tailors with them, then they would figure and choose and turn over the goods until they found something to suit. The selection of goods for a vest in those days was a matter of no small importance. The vests were veritable rainbows, and the patterns the boys would hunt out and wear were simply marvelous, and I see now that the old style is being revived, and it will be the same thing over again."

CERNEAU SCOTTISH RITE MASONS.

An Important Proclamation Issued by the Supreme Council.

NEW YORK, September 27.—The Supreme Council of the Cerneau Scottish Rite Masons has issued a proclamation, in which the council says:

1. By our constitution fraternal relations can be established only with Scottish Rite bodies, and the sole power to perfect such relations is thereby vested in the Supreme Council.

2. Believing then and now that we had a justifiable right to enter into friendly relations with any other legal Scottish Rite organization in the world, a proposition was made in April, 1880, to then enter into such relations with the Grand College of Rites (which we then and now understand to be a purely Scottish Rite body, attached to the Grand Orient of France.) But the original proposed relations between the two bodies have never been consummated.

3. Since such limited appointment our Scottish Rite enemies—disregarding the facts and intending to mislead the craft to our prejudice—have falsely insisted and published broadcast that we had, contrary to Grand Lodge order, entered into fraternal relations with the Grand Orient of France.

4. Striving as Master Masons, Royal Arch Cyptic Masons and Knights Templar since our organization in 1807 been ever loyal and true to the Grand Lodge, Grand Chapter, Grand Council and Grand Encampment, and to each of them subordinate bodies, we do not intend that at this late day our loyalty shall be suspected.

5. Therefore, insisting that we never intentionally did or committed any act, or thing, showing any want of loyalty to Ancient Craft Masonry, and that there may be no other excuse to claim that we have, we do hereby withdraw said proposal and annul, vacate and set aside each and every act and thing done by any in authority in our Rite, wherein or whereby it might be claimed by our enemies that fraternal rites had been effected by the said Grand Orient of France, or any of its bodies and our organization, contrary to the order or decree of any grand louge of the United States.
